Action May Kill
Other Increases

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A new phase in the gasoline price controversy was reached yesterday when Imperial Oil Ltd. in an official statement said it would not increase its service station prices.

Earlier this week, two of Imperial's chief rivals, B.A. Oil Company Ltd. and Texaco Canada Ltd., stated that they would raise the price of their service station gasoline by up to one cent a gallon.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT

Royalite Oil Company joined B.A. and Texaco yesterday but no announcement of changes have yet been made by Shell Oil or B.C. Standard.

The feeling in the oil industry is that Imperial's announcement will ruin the chances of the other companies in making their higher prices stick.

PRICES STAY

"It is all a matter of competition," said D. H. MacAllan, B.C. manager of Imperial Oil. "Our pump prices will remain as they were, and it remains to be seen if the others will continue to ask for the higher tariff."

NO SURPRISE

The move by Imperial Oil did not come as a complete surprise, although it was this company which initiated the increase of 10 cents a barrel on the wellhead price of Canadian crude oil when the Canadian

Blazes Revive Terror

ALGIERS (AP)—Secret Army terrorists turned to destruction by fire in Algeria Thursday. Two blazes raged in Oran and the main building of Algiers University here was burned.

Eleven persons were killed and 13 wounded in Thursday's strife.

SCHOOL ON FIRE

In Oran, a booty-trapped tank truck filled with 4,000 gallons of gasoline exploded and set fire to a high school building used as a police barracks. As the fire flared terrorist mortar shells crashed into the school yard where flames engulfed armored cars and gun positions. Official sources said three guerrillas were critically wounded.

'DEADLOCKED'

The fires and a renewal of slaughter of Moslems in Algiers marked a renewal of Secret Army terrorism announced Wednesday night in a clandestine Secret Army broadcast. But a disident underground leader called for an end to devastation. "We have lost the battle," he said.

John D Promises Action on Greed

MONTREAL (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker served notice Thursday on Canadian business that the government will act quickly against "greedy people" taking advantage of the recent dollar devaluation to raise prices.

The prime minister, speaking to a luncheon rally at Magog, Que., did not say what action is being considered—except that it will be "as effective as it will be drastic."

Later, asked by reporters to elaborate, the prime minister said: "I have served notice and I have nothing further to say."

'Bread Price to Go Up Despite Diefenbaker'

TORONTO (CP)—A spokesman for Metropolitan Toronto bakers said Thursday night the price of bread definitely will go up, regardless of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's warning yesterday at Magog, Que.

"I would like to have Mr. Diefenbaker in my shop and show him my costs," said Guenther Gueneel, president of the Associated Retail Bakers of Metro which represents 80 shops.

"I would love to talk in front of some of these politicians to make my position clear."

Fleming Bows Out

Smallwood Gags Tory

Enraged Premier Threatens Rotary

By JACK PICKETTS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming called off a luncheon speech on the Canadian dollar Thursday after Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland gave the St. John's Rotary Club a "cancel it or else" ultimatum.

The "or else" was that the provincial government would withdraw sponsorship of a regional Rotary Club convention dinner here next week. The premier added that he would have nothing whatever to do with the club in the future if the speech on the devaluation of the Canadian dollar was made.

While Rotary Club officials hurried out of their luncheon room to confer with the premier, Mr. Fleming—here on a two-day political visit—sat silent at the head table.

Finally, club President Ernest C. MacDonald announced that the minister had "kindly consented" to accept the club's withdrawal of its invitation.

Mr. Smallwood regarded Mr. Fleming's proposed speech as interference in the election campaign, Mr. MacDonald said, and would penalize the Rotary Club to the extent of withdrawing a dinner invitation and "hindering future activities" of the club.

PREMIER SMALLWOOD

Fleming:

'Hottest Issue'

At a later press conference, Mr. Fleming said he had offered to stand up and make the withdrawal himself but another message from Mr. Smallwood, who was eating in another room of the Newfoundland Hotel, indicated that if he even got to his feet the government's dinner would be cancelled.

The premier issued a statement saying the Canadian dollar was the hottest political issue in Canada today and the invitation to the finance minister to discuss it made the Rotary Club a partisan body.

He said he wrote the club withdrawing the government's invitation and then met club officials personally at the hotel. When they expressed concern about his action he told them he considered it to be "intolerable and inexcusable for the Rotary Club to invite a politician to speak to them in the midst of this election on the hottest political topic in Canada today."

Mr. Fleming said he offered to change the subject of his address if that would satisfy the premier. He added that the invitation to speak was received some time ago and the club itself had suggested the subject of pegging of the dollar.

The premier—who himself is scheduled to address the Rotary Club convention June 13—said he told the club that Mr. Fleming's address might be all right if at the same time the club invited representatives of all parties to speak.

He added that "this Tory politician Fleming, being here on a political visit, wanted to use the Rotary Club as a tool for his Tory propaganda."

'Shook with Rage'

Later in a paid political telecast over CJON-TV, Mr. Smallwood said Mr. Fleming had told the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Montreal Monday that he was delivering before it his last non-political speech before the federal election.

Mr. Smallwood said Mr. Fleming "or his friends" had asked the Rotary Club to invite the minister to speak at the luncheon. Mr. Fleming had "suggested the topic—the devaluation."

The premier said "pay no attention to Mr. Fleming down here trying to grab a few votes. He's on his way out."

Mr. Fleming later said he received the invitation to speak to the Rotary Club here after his speech in Montreal Monday. He said the assertion that he had asked to be invited to speak to the Rotary Club and that he had chosen the dollar as his topic were "utter falsehoods." Mr. Fleming said his impression of what went on was that word of the ultimatum reached club officials about three minutes after the luncheon started when Mr. MacDonald was called out of the room to see Mr. Smallwood. He returned six or seven minutes later.

The finance minister said he had been told Mr. Smallwood was in another room of the hotel "shaking with rage."

During the last few weeks he has spoken to at least two other service clubs on non-political subjects.

There were no other speeches at Thursday's meeting and club members dispersed after eating dinner. No member commented during the dinner, and all members asked after the meeting declined to comment.

Mr. Fleming told reporters after the dinner ended: "I managed to eat a bit of dinner in spite of it all."

'Watch For Castro'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said Thursday night the Canadian Bill of Rights does not mean freedom of speech only with "freedom and persuasion" of Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood.

He said Thursday's incident enabled him to see "more clearly" the need for the Bill of Rights.

"You are going to have a visit from Mr. Castro up here trying to learn something about the tactics of dictatorship," he said.

Prince Philip Lashes Out

'Status Killers' Threaten Wildlife

By CARMAN CUMMING

NEW YORK (CP)—Prince Philip warned Thursday night that 250 species of animals and birds are in danger of extermination because of "the sheer callousness of mankind."

In an address to a dinner here launching the World Wildlife Fund in the United States, the prince called for better game and conservation laws "and the means of enforcing them."

He strongly condemned what he called the "status-killers" and the "killers for profit, the poachers, the get-rich-quick-at-any-cost mob."

The sportsman, he said, "is concerned that the source of his sport is not destroyed; the status-killer couldn't care less."

Philip, head of the Wildlife Fund's appeal in Britain since it was organized there last year, was introduced at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner by the organization's international president, Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands.

Philip said the fund was created to try to conserve wildlife of all kinds.

"If it succeeds, our descendants will have the pleasure of seeing wild animals. If it fails they will be forced to live in a world where the only living creature will be man himself—always assuming, of course, that we don't destroy ourselves in the meantime."

Since the time of Christ, he said, some 100 animals and the same number of birds have become extinct.

Species now under threat of extinction included the North

American golden eagle, which was "being chased and killed by people in light airplanes who seem to think that it is smart to have their feathers and claws."

Changing physical conditions in the world also are threatening wildlife.

"... Human population is increasing, forcing the animals out. Industry and science are polluting the air, the soil and the water, unintentionally, maybe, but none the less effectively killing off vast numbers of animals and fish."

Laos Coalition Today —Neutralist Prince

PLAINS OF JARS (Reuters)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma said Thursday that the three rival Laotian princes have solved their wrangles over the key defence and interior posts and may form a coalition government today.

Souvanna said after an hour-long meeting with his princely rival faction leaders that a solution to the question of which faction would hold the defence and interior posts in a coalition cabinet had been settled.

He also said the three had agreed that the post of foreign minister should be held by a neutralist.

But later in Vientiane, right-wing "strongman" Gen. Phoumi Nosavan said distribution of cabinet posts was still to be discussed.

After attending the talks, he said the atmosphere had been cordial and there had been "some rapprochement."

Right-wing Premier Prince Boun Oum and Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, both were smiling broadly when they emerged from the conference room.

WOULDN'T SAY

But Souvanna refused to say what points still had not been settled and told reporters "they will have to remain vague for the present."

Souvanna did not outline the details of the agreement on the defence and interior ministries, but in Bangkok Thai Premier Sarit Thanarat told reporters earlier that Boun would propose that Souvanna hold both posts.

Souphanouvong told questioners later that if there was a coalition government there would be peace in Laos.

Asked if it would be a "pro-Communist peace" or a "neutralist peace," he said "it will be a neutralist peace."

Souvanna told reporters the question of other cabinet posts—finance, economics, information, education and culture—will be taken up today. He said it was agreed Thursday that foreign affairs should go to the neutralists.

He added that with the progress made a coalition government could be formed today.

Truce Group To Stay

OTTAWA (CP)—There is little prospect of an early withdrawal of the International Truce Commission from Laos even if a stable independent government is formed there, diplomatic sources said Thursday.

Canada, India and Poland are the countries that make up the commission which was sent back to the Southeast Asia kingdom about a year ago after having been inactive since 1958.

Food Official:

Short-Weight 'Rather High'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Violations of federal law through short-weight packaging or in-adequate labelling of foods "has been running rather high," an enforcement official of the Food and Drug Administration said Thursday.

Chester T. Hubble, director of the division of case control in the bureau of enforcement, told the 47th national conference on weights and measures in a prepared speech that the FDA had been able to give more regulatory attention than originally contemplated. Still, he said, enforcement is a relatively neglected area.

He cited these statistics:

1. In the 10 months from mid-June 1961 to mid-April 1962 the FDA seized 162 lots of short-weight food and 63 lots of food bearing inconspicuous declarations of net contents, ingredients or firm name and address.

2. In approximately 30 other instances seizure was warranted but the goods were distributed and perhaps consumed before the lots could be attached by the U.S. marshals following preparation of the necessary legal documents.

Hubble recalled that a year ago George P. Larrick, the federal food and drug commissioner, told state officials that FDA would be unable to increase its investigations into short-weight practices to the extent it desired because of enforcement obligations in the health field.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Southern convention yesterday reaffirmed its faith in the Bible as "the infallible word of God."

Smiles at Airport

Booming Welcome For Queen Mother

MONTREAL (CP)—A smiling Queen Mother Elizabeth returned to Canada Thursday and received a booming, cheering welcome before slipping off for a night of rest.

An estimated 2,000 persons lined a large balcony atop the main terminal at Montreal's modernistic International Airport to applaud the royal visitor as she stepped from a regularly scheduled Trans-Canada Air Lines jet flight.

After a brief welcoming ceremony—it took less than 20 minutes—the Queen Mother headed for her hotel suite in downtown Montreal.

HUNDREDS WAIT
Several hundred Montrealers who had waited outside the hotel for a glimpse were disappointed, however, when the royal motorcade slipped into a tunnel leading under the building.

From there the Queen Mother went directly to the six-room, royal suite on the 20th floor. The Queen Mother's plane, carrying 45 regular passengers plus the 16 members of the royal party, touched down at 4:57 p.m. EDT., only three minutes ahead of schedule. It had left London at 9:48 a.m. EDT. Thursday night.

After Outright Ban

U.S. Passes Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Senate passed a $4,700,000 foreign aid bill Thursday night after back-tracking on its decision to cut off all aid to Communist satellite nations. It voted to exempt surplus farm shipments to Poland and Yugoslavia.

The reversal of Wednesday's outright ban on help to Communist-dominated nations was welcomed by President Kennedy.

Kennedy Pledges Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pledged Thursday to recommend an across-the-board cut in personal and corporate income taxes, to take effect next Jan. 1.

At a press conference, Kennedy prodded Congress to act quickly on other economic measures he has urged.

"There is no need for us to stand helplessly by and watch our economy run out of gas," he said.

As a matter of fact, he added, the economy is progressing, but he acknowledged in effect that it lacks the zip deemed desirable, and the United States economic growth is not as great as it should be.

As to the stock market decline, he said most financial experts had realized for some time that an overpriced market would not hold up.

But he said the adjustment must not slow up the recovery.

Biggest Potash Deposit Struck in Saskatchewan

ESTERHAZY, Sask. (CP)—Shafts Thursday night bit the main ore body of the world's known largest deposit of high grade potash.

Officials of International Minerals and Chemical (Canada) Limited, whose $40,000,000 mine and shaft will open these Saskatchewan reserves, said the ore body was struck at 3,133-foot level.

Miners took no time for celebration as they continued the drive to the official mining seam. Shaft-sinkers reported that a precisely-measured test drilling made early Thursday revealed that the shaft will intersect the top of the mining seam at 3,132 feet instead of 3,143 feet, as estimated from exploratory drilling made earlier from higher in the shaft.

They expect to reach the 3,132-foot level sometime today. Babies born in Saskatchewan on the day the shaft hits the 3,132-foot mark will qualify to receive one share of IMC stock, valued at about $37.

Mood in U.S. Shifting

Strategy on Blink?

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A shift in the U.S. political mood threatens to wreck President Kennedy's strategy of attempting to wean away some of the Communist satellites from Moscow's iron grip through continued offerings of food and other U.S. aid.

Although this strategy has shown no material success so far, the Kennedy administration wants to keep trying, particularly in Poland and Yugoslavia, which historically and culturally have tended to follow a pattern of nationalism and independence.

But the mood of the U.S. Senate, in first banning all further economic aid to all Red-led countries and then reluctantly considering a compromise, seems to indicate there isn't much national support in the United States for current U.S. policies on the fringes of Russia. Indeed, one vocal political element believes U.S. policy tends to work in reverse—that by giving Poland and Yugoslavia aid, the United States merely assures the continuation of the Communists in power.

In fact, if it were not for the influence of the farmer at the polls, they say, there is a question of whether the Senate would even consider a compromise to allow the government to continue to ship surplus food to these countries.

State Secretary Dean Rusk maintains the end of U.S. help would give the impression that the United States is "permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

Un-Canadian

WE HEARTILY agree with Justice Minister Davie Fulton that the new increases in the price of gasoline, now going into effect, are not occasioned by the pegging, or devaluation, of the Canadian dollar.

It is patently clear that a change in the external value of the Canadian currency should have no influence on the end price of a commodity that is extracted from under Canadian soil, is transported in Canadian pipes, refined in Canadian refineries and distributed and sold by Canadians for Canadians.

What the U.S.-controlled oil distributors in Canada—who rule the industry—do with the prices they get for exporting Canadian crude is their own business, and good luck to them.

But they have no moral right to say that it is devaluation of the dollar which has caused them to raise the domestic price for petroleum products. As Mr. Fulton says this is "just nonsense."

The real reason for the rise is that the international oil industry will not allow the price of Canadian crude to sink below the world market level, and to bring the crude oil price into line with the devaluation of the dollar the leading Canadian oil company, Imperial Oil, 80 per cent owned by Standard Oil of New Jersey, set the pattern by raising the wellhead price of Canadian crude to achieve this end.

At the same time it started an inflationary spiral in the industry which is now culminating in higher prices to the consumer at the pumps.

Where all this will end is not yet determinable, but as practically every individual and every company uses gasoline or some other petroleum product in everyday life, the impact of the higher prices will be felt over a very wide range. In other words the action of the oil companies is of paramount importance to the economy of the country as a whole.

The government has declared that the success of the devaluation of the dollar depends on the Canadian public—including Canadian corporations—making a determined effort to hold the line on domestic prices.

While some oil companies, including Imperial, have not yet increased their pump prices, others have shown an un-Canadian attitude by refusing to co-operate and in many ways their action is similar to that of the U.S. steel companies, whose recent price raising actions were so heavily rapped by President Kennedy.

The Canadian oil industry should take another look at the public image it is creating. It won't like it.

A Good Joke

PREMIER BENNETT has the honestly-won reputation of being the smilingest man in Canadian public life today. He likes to be happy and he obviously likes to see other people happy. That is why he told his Nova Scotia audience such a good joke Wednesday night.

The premier's joke, which deserves repeating, was short, sharp and to the point. What he said was that government-owned corporations should be given back to private control.

But whether or not his Bluenose listeners got the point is not recorded. Suffice it to say that his red-faced colleagues now campaigning across the country certainly will. And if it is any comfort to Mr. Bennett he should know that his crack has convulsed hundreds of former B.C. Electric shareholders.

Of course, many a good story is spoilt by over-amplification. Being the seasoned humorist that he is, Mr. Bennett avoided this pitfall by not revealing how his joke would affect either B.C. Electric or B.C. Ferries. He merely involved the CNR, the TCA and the CBC.

But then, he wasn't in his own province when he told it. Perhaps he'll tell British Columbians the other half or even a brand-new one when he returns home.

We can hardly wait to see which.

Chagrined

ONE HATES to dampen Captain Groos' vanity—political candidates need lots of it to keep their composure—but the prime minister and three of his leading associates did not come here simply to aim their guns at him. They came to address the voters of both Victoria and Esquimalt-Saanich constituencies.

This may be a blow to his self-esteem, but there it is.

The gallant Liberal captain affects by the paid printed word to see in this visiting gesture a rescue party of Conservative VIPs designed to ward off his personal threat to the seat capably filled in the last House by Mr. George Chatterton. It is perhaps a pity to disillusion him but the well-known custom of course is for party leaders to try to visit as many ridings as possible during a general election, in order to present the national party viewpoint as well as support the local candidates concerned.

It is actually a compliment to this area that leading members of the Diefenbaker cabinet should come here in view of the many pressing demands on their presence.

Seemingly, however, this affords Captain Groos no little chagrin. "I have not found it necessary to call for help yet," he cries in somewhat plaintive tones.

One is forced to sympathize with the Liberal standard-bearer in Esquimalt. It is a fact that the list of Liberal VIPs does not match in quality that of the Conservative Party and this is his misfortune. Nevertheless it is the case that Mr. Pearson and Mr. Paul Martin have been here and most certainly they did not come in response to an appeal for assistance from either Mr. McPhillips or Mr. Chatterton.

And these are the best the Liberal Party can muster.

There is only one conclusion to be drawn from the captain's spoken and printed discomfort, and one imagines it is not likely to be too palatable to national Liberal headquarters. It is that neither Mr. Pearson nor Mr. Martin was of any help at all to his cause when they spoke in this area.

They did their best, undoubtedly, but seemingly they failed the Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax ...

BY TOM TAYLOR

WHEN I was passing the adjacent North Ward School the other day another man, being a friendly sort of chap who didn't need an introduction—a nice Canadian characteristic—said to me: "That's the age to be."

He was referring of course to the groups of youngsters playing joyously on the school ground. This is not one of those grand anti-septic schools more fortunate children attend, all light and air and lots of space, but an old-fashioned and seemingly neglected structure. In wet weather the playground is full of puddles and I notice that while there's a shed to keep the rain off the bicycles there's none to keep it off the children.

Not, apparently, that they mind. Never having attended a more fashionable school they ignore their outmoded environment and disport themselves, as they were doing when I passed, with gay abandon. And colors of the rainbow into the bargain. North Ward is a veritable United Nations in miniature, but with none of the acrimony that goes on under the international banner at New York.

Sometimes I think I would do quarrelling UN delegates good to watch the North Ward children, white, brown and yellow, at play.

The philosopher who spoke to me meant, I suppose, that he wished he were young again. Grown-ups generally do, when they are grown-up enough. And they all reach that stage if they live long enough; it's as inevitable as a general election. And liable to be as full of regrets.

A more renowned philosopher, Bernard Shaw, didn't agree that "that's the age to be" and he is on record as affirming that youth was too wonderful to be wasted on children. Age, obviously, had caught up with him.

He was quite wrong, of course. In fact youth would be wasted on adults even if they could recapture the flavor and gusto of being young again. Only if they could empty themselves of all adult experience could they possess the care-free air that the North Ward children have. And if they could do that they wouldn't be adult; by some alchemy they'd be young again.

Life for the school children of this whole area might not prove to be the bowl of cherries the song sings about, but time enough for all the later disillusionments.

School days were meant to be gay days in spite of home work and examinations and school children have a strong claim on happiness at this period of their lives. It should be enshrined in a special bill of rights.

They are the future citizens on whom Canada depends, but never mind a serious thought like that. Enough that they should romp joyously in the innocence of children. It is about the only innocence left.

It does one good anyway to stand for a few moments and watch them. It lightens the day. Sometimes I pass the football field behind the school on which some of the North Ward pupils take their recess. It has a grassy surface more suitable to the scamper of small feet. And it's a pleasing spectacle as they run races, play games, kick or throw a ball around, and generally be their age.

Their happy laughter is an antidote for an adult soul. Not for them worries about H-bombs or Berlin or dollar devaluation or any of the other mundane things that plague the minds of grown-ups. Just the sheer joy of being what they are, children supping to the full of the youth Bernard Shaw grudging them.

And nobody can take it away from them. For youth belongs alone to those who have it. It's short enough anyway in all conscience.

Seeking a Non-Existent Vote

By FRANK DREA

THE most nebulous and yet the most sought after vote in the June 18 national election is the labor vote—even though the four contending political parties agree that it doesn't even exist.

Simple arithmetic shows that if there was a massive labor vote in Canada, this bloc would dominate the political scene. With 6,000,000 working people, this group could account for millions of votes, more than enough to sweep any party into office.

Yet the truth of the matter is that the party that wins the election wins the labor vote. It is perfectly valid for the Progressive Conservatives to argue that the party decisively won the labor vote in 1958 just as an upturn in Liberal or New Democratic Party fortunes would enable each to make the same claim today.

The same fact is apparent in the United States, despite the claims of the Democratic Party that it wins the big labor votes in urban areas. Dwight Eisenhower, who could not be labelled a friend of labor in any circumstances, captured a far bigger slice of this vote in 1952 and 1956 than John Kennedy and his labor-oriented campaign did two years ago.

With big work forces, and the persons in them articulate and well educated by world standards, why is there no big labor vote in Canada behind any one party?

The U.S. politicians may be close to the answer when they say that the size of a person's wallet is the overriding reason for his choice of candidates on election day. Religion and national origin are important, but the Americans base their outlook on economics.

Because of the diversity of employment in Canada, there is really no such classification as labor.

There are two fundamental cleavages, white collar and blue collar, among people who are employed by companies.

And there is the beginning of a third grouping or class, the white coat or technical employees, who have little in common with either the blue collar factory workers or the white collar office employees.

Even within the groupings, there are major divisions, probably more pronounced among blue collar workers.

Construction workers, consider themselves skilled tradesmen and feel they have little in common with industrial workers or production line employees.

They both may belong to unions but even among their union leaders there is little in common since the construction unions are operated on a craft or trade basis while the industrial ones are all-encompassing.

And the biggest division of all is in the size of the pay envelope. Workers in the traditionally high paying industries (pulp and paper manufacturing) seldom see things the way the unskilled or semi-skilled and lower-paid workers in other industries.

There are even great cleavages within a single industry's labor force. For instance on the railways, the men in the running trades, engineers, firemen, switchmen, brakemen and conductors, regard themselves as far different from the mass of non-operating workers.

When the biggest labor body in the country moved to help found the New Democratic Party, the Canadian Labor Congress stressed that it was not interested in a labor party. It warned that any successful political party must have a far wider base.

The final split within the labor ranks comes on a geographic basis since workers in smaller and isolated communities tend to have other views than those in big industrial communities.

With all this, then why do politicians earnestly court the labor vote, as though it was a single powerful bloc of ballots?

The answer probably lies in the tradition of political campaigning—never take a chance of ignoring any group.

The tradition will probably continue well into the future although just about everybody is convinced there isn't a real labor vote.

Russia and China

Will Truce Last?

By ISAAC DEUTSCHER
(Last of Four Articles)

CHINA's internal tragedy is having its foreign repercussions. In March and April the "moderates" were pointing out that while the country was shaken by the present cataclysm, and the reactions of peasants and workers were unpredictable, it was folly for government and party to aggravate the quarrel with Moscow, to deprive themselves of Soviet economic aid, and to isolate themselves internationally.

Chou En-lai had not personally taken part in the campaign against the Khrushchevite interpretation of "peaceful coexistence"; he held that that campaign needlessly damaged China's prestige and interest not only in Russia but among the neutral nations and also in the West.

This argument acquired much force when he was able to point out that Canadian and Australian wheat was helping the government in fighting off famine. Surely Liu Shao-chi and his faction did not wish to provide grain to those in the West who would like to see China deprived of such vital imports? Instead of indulging in "wild talk" against peaceful coexistence, they should rather seek to extend trade with the West.

These arguments carried the day. And so while in Moscow the pendulum was moving somewhat in the pro-Chinese direction, in Peking it swung towards Russia.

It remains to be seen how long the Russo-Chinese truce is going to last. This depends on a number of factors. In both countries there is a tense expectation of this year's harvest. If it is bad, further revisions of policy may be necessary; and Khrushchev may yet carry through the reallocation of funds in favor of agriculture, with all that implies for armament and diplomacy.

But it is not unusual in these countries for a series of bad harvests to be followed by a bumper crop. Should this be the case, then the immense pressures, under which the policy makers have been working, will slacken. But the effect may not be the same in Moscow as in Peking.

In Russia a good harvest would further strengthen the hands of those who favor priority for heavy industry and are opposed to any significant change in economic policy. In China internal differences will not be so easily resolved. Even after a bumper crop, the people are likely to remain extremely weary. The economy is unsteady, and the stocks depleted. Opposition to the resumption of the Great Leap, in its old forms and at the old pace, will probably be strong.

Liu Shao-chi and his men will certainly urge a resumption. They have, in any case, stipulated in the terms of the Ten Tasks that the pause in the industrial drive is to be limited to this year. Yet the logic of the Ten Tasks points to a much longer pause.

Having sent millions of workers from factory to farm, the government cannot easily bring them back to the factories next year or the year after. But if the tempo of industrialization slows down for a longer time, this will affect the political outlook. The prestige of Peking's rulers will have suffered; and they may be less eager to compete with the Russians for leadership in the Communist camp.

On the other hand, the Chinese suspicion of revisionism and Khrushchevism is by no means dispelled; and this is not the first truce between Khrushchev and Mao. Until now every attempt at patching up the differences has ended in a more bitter quarrel; and the present attempt may end likewise.

Much will depend on the state of relations between Russia and the West. The present Russo-Chinese truce corresponds to a diplomatic standstill in the West. Any departure from that standstill and any fresh moves towards a détente may revive and aggravate the internal Communist discord.

THE marketing of fruit and vegetables is one of the major mysteries of our time. Nobody has solved the problem of how to get the produce of the earth to the customer without the most complex gyrations involving time and money.

Take carrots.

They grow in this country, are easy to handle and keep well.

Yet by some miracle of disorganization they are now being sold here in the shops after being imported all the way from Phoenix, Arizona—a distance of some 6,000 miles.

Gas Boost 'Contempt'

THE CAMPAIGN | X

Price Control McPhillips Quoted Tory Aim?

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Liberal Leader Pearson asked Thursday night whether Prime Minister Diefenbaker was proposing price controls when he "talked vaguely about drastic action" for people raising prices as a result of the devalued dollar.

"Has the Tories' political panic now gone so far as to make them completely wild?" Mr. Pearson said.

Fanthorpe Says Tory Has Poor Reputation

Conservative candidate Bert McPhillips enjoys a poor reputation in Victoria, NDP federal candidate Harry Fanthorpe said last night.

To substantiate his claim,

The boost in the price of gasoline and oil by U.S.-controlled oil companies indicates the "contempt" these business leaders have for Canada's "one-man government," Victoria Liberal candidate Foster Isherwood said last night.

He said the time chosen for the "arbitrary" price boost indicated that the oil interests were sure they could get away with it.

He added that the boost was "not justified" by either devaluation of the Canadian dollar or increased costs of production.

'LACKED COURAGE'
He charged that the oil interests were aware that the government "lacked the courage" to do anything about the price increase.

The attack was the second barrel of a scatter-gun attack on the Conservative party fired by the candidate and Oak Bay MLA Alan Macfarlane before 40 people in Oak Bay municipal hall.

'WAGE CUT'
Mr. Isherwood told the audience the devalued dollar had wiped out the minor gains in pensions for Canada's aged and, to the wage earner, constituted an automatic cut in wages.

He predicted a general rise in the cost of living "all along the line" as prices of imports rose.

AGREED
Mr. Macfarlane charged that B.C.'s Premier Bennett and Prime Minister Diefenbaker had "come to an agreement" not to disagree over the Columbia River development during the election campaign.

"During the past two years they... have fought a bitter battle... over power policies... it is extraordinary to find, in the heat of the election, the Prime Minister saying at a meeting in Prince George there is no real difference of opinion..."

Mr. Fanthorpe read his audience of eight people at Woodworth Hall a letter from the former Conservative MP to Alfred Shaw, recording secretary of the Sheet Metal Workers Union.

Mr. Shaw had written to Mr. McPhillips requesting something be done about unemployment in Victoria. The former MP's reply was dated Nov. 1, 1960, and contained the seal of the House of Commons.

Reading from the letter Mr. Fanthorpe said, "What I cannot understand is that you fellows are willing to let that scabby bunch across the Bay (the provincial government) allow the Jubilee Hospital building to stand uncommenced—particularly when the public contributed a large sum and the Government of Canada stands ready."

He continued, "You seem to be only too glad to snipe at the people who seek to do good, but are short in putting blame where blame is due."

Mr. Fanthorpe told his audience, "This is hardly the sort of thing one would expect from the MP for Victoria."

Old Vigor Needed In Canada—Groos

The need for an invigorated Canada where all Canadians work together "as we used to when the going was tough" was emphasized last night by David Groos, Esquimalt-Saanich Liberal candidate.

Mr. Groos was speaking at a campaign meeting in Langford Hall.

"I see the provinces supporting each other for better or worse as was the intention when this great nation was formed," he said.

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 300 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

Rome was not built in a day. Obviously Saanich council was not on the job.

Half a million dollars for new parks, hundreds of thousands for a new golf course, hundreds of thousands for a new hall, hundreds of thousands for a new health building, hundreds of thousands for a transportation system, hundreds of thousands for a new road program, hundreds of thousands for new sewer systems.

Wow! Gentlemen, please, one project at a time, lest a fearful and resentful populace votes to kill all these worthy ideas simply because the depth of a taxpayer's pocket is not unlimited.

A Worship Service

With reference to the coverage by Mr. Binny of the Sunday school worship service in Beacon Hill Park on Sunday, what Mr. Binny said was true if one were looking for a technically well-produced performance. However, this was not the purpose of the rally.

The sole purpose of the service was to glorify God and to worship Him from our hearts in simple adoration and praise. For over two months the choirs were becoming familiar with the words and meaning of every hymn used. This was in order that they could the more completely lose themselves in true worship.

The need for mechanical projection was considered but it was felt that the nature of the service did not require it. . . . Great numbers of people feel that the intended impact was made. There is no doubt that a spiritual reaction was stimulated not only among those participating but also among most of those present.

We are sorry that Mr. Binny, accustomed as he is to listening with a critical ear to performances of an entertainment nature, missed this and failed to grasp that this service was of an entirely different nature and purpose.

GERTRUDE E. MCGILL,
Organizer of rally.

Treatment, Not Murder

Napoleon was not murdered by the English.

That he was given arsenic was highly probable, this being about the only anti-convulsant drug for the cure of epilepsy known at the time he lived. Napoleon, like many of the world's great men, was a victim to this dread ailment, which was called King's disease in olden times.

Others afflicted included Julius Caesar, which caused Shakespeare to put into the mouth of Brutus the following words: "Ye gods, it doth amaze me that a man of such a feeble temper should so get the start of the majestic world and bear the palm alone." Caesar had periodical convulsions in the streets of Rome. Other great men who were epileptics were Mahomet, Charles Pitt, Hercules, Wagner, Petrarch, Cambyse, Byron, etc.

I write this in answer to the article in your Sunday edition of June 3.

Aid Appreciated

This is a letter of appreciation and admiration for the "taggers" who helped the Victoria and Vancouver Island Multiple Sclerosis Society with our tag day Saturday last. It was a miserable day, chilly, windy and showery—but taggers from ages 12 to over 70, gave their time, one hour, two hours, and longer, to help the society help MS patients. It was not possible to wear gloves, and girls and boys and adults came into headquarters with mighty cold hands, to receive a cup of hot tea or coffee. . . . Our patient aid will benefit to the extent of around $2,000.

Our benefactors and helpers are many, and to all we extend a sincere "thank you."

Pay More for Science, or Else

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Any industrialized country that does not allocate to scientific research a proportion of its national effort comparable to that of the most advanced nations will be unable to maintain its position in the world.

This statement is from Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, president of the National Research Council, who addressed this week's annual meeting in Montreal of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

***

Apparently Canada not only has to hold her own in a current sense but has a considerable way to catch up.

Here is one set of estimates given by Dr. Steacie:

From 1956 to 1958 total Canadian research and development expenditures increased about 10 per cent per year compared with 13 to 14 per cent in the United States and 12 to 13 per cent in the United Kingdom.

Of this, research and development performed by the federal government increased seven to eight per cent compared with eight to nine in the United States; and that by industry increased about 10 per cent compared with the same figure in the United States.

Research and development financed by the government increased about 10 per cent per year compared with 12 to 13 per cent in the U.S. and eight to nine per cent in the U.K.; while research financed by industry increased about 20 per cent per year as compared with five to six per cent in the U.S. and 10 to 13 per cent in the U.K.

While these figures may appear encouraging, Dr. Steacie commented, the rate of growth of expenditure is also satisfactory—if the level in Canada is below that of other advanced countries it will be necessary to provide for a greater rate of growth in order to reach equality.

Six Navy Divers Headed for Arctic

A team of six Pacific Command navy divers will have no problem keeping cool this summer.

The team leaves July 7 for a two-month stint of underwater demolition work in the Canadian Arctic. Headed by Lieut-Comdr. Frank Davis, 3128 Westdowne Road, the party will clear away beach obstacles preparatory to landing barge delivery of supplies for DEW-Line outposts.

The group will travel to Edmonton by rail, then fly to Tuktoyaktuk, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River. Their task will be to remove large boulders and stones from landing areas.

It is the third consecutive year the diving team from Esquimalt has handled the job. Lieut-Comdr. Davis explained that annual ice break-ups push huge rocks onto the beach each spring.

The divers will be equipped with SCUBA gear and wet suits.

Most of the total Canadian gypsum output comes from the more than 600 square miles of deposits in Nova Scotia.

Camp Site Sinks

TERRACE (CP)—An underground upheaval, said to be worse than a similar one two weeks ago, set the earth in motion near here Thursday and cut off the power and road link with Kitimat, 40 miles to the south.

Police reports from this northern British Columbia interior community said blue sand was flowing like a river, and mud and trees and rubble extended three-quarters of the way across a lake.

A 60-site government camping area disappeared, six power poles were snapped, an island appeared in Lake Lakelse and the area where three-quarters of a mile of two roads were obliterated subsided 100 feet.

In the lake trees were sticking up.

There were no reports of injuries or lost machinery.

The power line from the

Danger for Truck Drivers From Radioactive Pellets

NEW YORK (AP)—Radioactive pellets shaken free from a lead protective shield during shipment from Ottawa to Burlington, Mass., set up a radiation field "considerably beyond recommended levels," the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported Thursday.

Investigators now are trying to determine the possible exposure to drivers and other personnel who may have handled the shipment by truck two weeks ago.

Nickel Firm Awards Fellowships

TORONTO (CP)—International Nickel Company of Canada Limited announced Thursday it has awarded postgraduate fellowships valued at $3,000 each to 10 students.

Five of the ten awards are new fellowships, while the remaining five are renewals of previous awards.

Among the winners of the new fellowships was Dieter Weichert, Vancouver, attending McMaster University, Hamilton.

"We do not feel that there is cause for alarm at this point," said a spokesman at the commission's office in New York, "but we are concerned that it happened at all."

The spokesman said it was the first such shipping accident involving radioactive materials in the United States.

The accident involved a shipment of 106 pellets of iridium 192 from Atomic Energy of Canada Limited to Technical Operations Incorporated, of Burlington. The pellets were contained in an aluminum cup surrounded by a four-inch lead shield inside a 600-pound shipping container.

LID WORKED LOOSE

"It appears that in some way the lid of the aluminum cup worked loose and some of the pellets were shaken out of the cup," the spokesman said. "They lodged in a closed drainpipe at the bottom of the case. This drainpipe is not shielded."

England Enters Last Round

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Yugoslavia and England Thursday reached the quarter-finals for the World Cup soccer championship.

Yugoslavia whipped Columbia 5-0 to finish runner-up to the Soviet Union in the Africa group and England played a dull 0-0 tie against Bulgaria to take second place behind Hungary in the Rancagua group.

Teams had to finish in first or second place in each of the four groups to qualify for the quarter-finals Sunday. Also:

West Germany	Chile	Poland	U.S.S.R.	France	Spain
3	2	1	1	1	1
2	1	1	1	1	1

qualified are Brazil, the defending champion, Chile, West Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Mexico, already out of the championship, pulled off the day's big surprise by defeating Czechoslovakia 3-1 in Vin del Mar. Mexico's victory left the Czechs in second place behind Brazil in the Vina del Mar group.

Italy suddenly hit top form in Santiago and defeated Switzerland 3-0—again in a match with no championship significance.

Howie Young Fined $100

KITCHENER (CP)—Howie Young, former Detroit Red Wings player in the National Hockey League and now with Edmonton Flyers of the Western League, Thursday was fined $100 for assault causing bodily harm to a policeman.

Young was charged following a May 8 fracas with Kitchener police Sergeant Charles Bignell during a Memorial Cup junior hockey final. Young attended as a fan.

Asked by the magistrate whether he could pay the fine, Young replied: "I imagine Detroit is handling it."

MARGARET TODD

City Ladies' Finale At Uplands Today

Margaret Todd is one step away from her 11th city women's golf championship, but that last step figures to be a difficult one.

Mrs. Todd, the defending champion, reached the final yesterday by beating Mrs. Edna Hay, 6 and 4, at Uplands Golf Club. Her opposition in today's final will be Mrs. Shirley Naysmith, who qualified by beating perennial finalist Mrs. Joan Lawson, 2 and 1.

Yesterday's results set up what should be a real struggle in the final. Both Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Naysmith are playing excellent golf at the moment, as indicated by yesterday's scores, when Mrs. Naysmith was two over par for the 17 holes she needed to win, and Mrs. Todd, coming back after a bad start, finished three over for 14.

Mrs. Todd started with a par, took a three-over seven on the second, bogeyed the third and was two over on the fourth. At that point the match stood all square, and

Mrs. Todd rattled off three straight birdies and two pars to go four up at the turn and was never threatened.

Mrs. Naysmith had it tougher against Mrs. Lawson. A birdie three gave her the lead on the third hole, and she went two up on the fourth when Mrs. Lawson three-putted. When the first nine was over, Mrs. Naysmith was even par and four up.

The 10th was halved, and Mrs. Naysmith went five up on the 11th with a par. The 11th was halved in birdies, and Mrs. Lawson came back to win the next two holes. The 15th was halved in par, and Mrs. Lawson won the 16th with a par to cut Mrs. Naysmith's lead to two.

But with two holes left to play, Mrs. Naysmith got a half on the 17th with a par to win.

Today's 18-hole final starts at 11 a.m. Flights draw follows:

CONSOLEYON 10:00—Mrs. G. Harris vs. Mrs. C. Munster
REYNOLDS 10:15—Mrs. G. Lovitt vs. Mrs. F. Green
FRIED 10:30—Mrs. M. Whyte vs. Mrs. H. Bignell
FOURTH 10:45—Mrs. F. Shillings vs. Mrs. F. Bignell
FIFTH 11:00—Mrs. E. Wildman vs. Mrs. E. Bignell
SIXTH 11:15—Mrs. C. Lonsdale vs. Mrs. J. Clark
SEVENTH 11:30—Mrs. R. Merryweather vs. Mrs. J. Bignell

Mother Teams Try Baseball

West Germany and Chile already had qualified from the Santiago group and Thursday's Italy-Swiss match was simply a formality.

The quarter-finals line-ups: At Santiago, West Germany plays Yugoslavia; at Vin del Mar, Brazil plays England; at Arica, Russia plays Chile; and at Rancagua, Hungary plays Czechoslovakia.

Teams knocked out of the championship are Italy, Switzerland, Colombia, Uruguay, Spain, Mexico, Bulgaria and Argentina.

England nosed into the quarter-finals on a better goal average than Argentina.

Hungary won the Rancagua group with five points. England and Argentina were tied in second place with three points apiece, but England had a goal average of four goals scored and three allowed. Argentina scored only two goals and allowed three.

Yugoslavia took a 1-0 lead on a goal by inside left Galle in the 20th minute at Arica and never looked back. The Colombians were routed as centre forward Jerkovic scored twice and Galle and left winger Melic whipped in more goals.

It was a different story at Rancagua where England fumbled its way to a tie against underdog Bulgaria.

A crowd of only about 5,000 watched the match—and even that handful of spectators whistled their derision both during the game and at the end.

For the Mexicans, eliminated from the championship before Thursday's game, it was a day of rejoicing at Vina del Mar.

Masek put the Czechs ahead in the 40th second—the quickest goal in the championship—and it looked as though a rout was in the making.

But back came the fighting Mexicans, chasing every ball and battling in every tackle. Their enthusiasm paid off with a tying goal in the 13th minute by Diaz.

Del Aguila put the Mexicans ahead 2-1 in the 30th minute and centre forward Hector Hernandez whipped in the third with only seconds to go.

The Italians played the best they have done in Chile. Goals from Mora in the second minute and Bulgarelli in the 65th and 67th minutes gave the Italians an easy win.

IWA Agent Won't Quit Defies Boss

DUNCAN—The business agent of IWA local 1-80 here says he was improperly fired by local president Weldon Jubenville and will relinquish neither his job nor his duties.

Business Agent Percy Clements, Mr. Jubenville's opponent in a so-far-undecided election campaign for the local presidency, was fired last Tuesday.

He said last night:

TO CLARIFY

"In view of the confusion to our membership caused by the statement in The Daily Colonist of Wednesday, June 6, by the president of local 1-80, IWA, Weldon Jubenville, that he had fired myself as business agent of the local, I wish to clarify my position.

"Article 12 of our union constitution is very clear in that it places the authority to hire and fire exclusively in the hands of the local executive board. They, and they alone, have this right and then only after confirmation of their action by the local membership.

"Jubenville has the authority to recommend my dismissal to the executive. This he has failed to do, and in my opinion is again in violation of our constitution.

"I refuse to accept the discharge, and await the membership's decision. In the meantime I shall carry out my responsibilities as this local's regional executive board and policy committee member."

Local members are voting this week to decide whether Mr. Clements or Mr. Jubenville will be their new president.

Election was held originally in April, when disqualification of 600 ballots resulted in a 25-vote margin victory for Mr. Jubenville.

It was decided to hold the election again when claim was advanced that had the 600 ballots been allowed, Mr. Clements would have been elected by more than 150 votes.

WILL BE COUNTED

Ballots in this new election will be counted next Monday and Tuesday by a membership-elected ballot committee, and results should be announced next Wednesday.

Mr. Jubenville has also been the central figure in the long-standing dispute between the local and Hillcrest Lumber Co., involving provision of transportation to the mill by bus for employees living at Duncan and Lake Cowichan.

Lynx Joins The Ladies

HUXLEY, Alta. (CP) — A lynx strolled onto Mrs. Ian Cameron's lawn as members of the Loyalty Sewing Circle were holding their weekly meeting at her home. The meeting temporarily adjourned. One club member grabbed Mrs. Cameron's shotgun. The animal was finally killed. A few two men joined the hunt. The women, after taking pictures of the dead animal, resumed their meeting.

Heart Victim Has Improved

An elderly Wisconsin woman who suffered a heart attack after a two-car crash at Douglas and Trans-Canada Highway Wednesday was in improved condition at St. Joseph's Hospital last night.

Myrtle Biggs, 69, of Solan, Wis., was stricken when a car driven by her husband, Arthur B. Biggs, collided with a car driven by George Rosman, 136 Conrad.

Twice the Crop Saleable—Tory

If the present fruit crop in Saanich Peninsula were doubled next year it could all be sold, Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative candidate George Chatterton said last night.

He told 16 persons at the Brentwood Women's Institute Hall the devalued dollar was an important factor in total sale of this year's Saanich fruit crop.

He also praised the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association for its aggressive salesmanship.

Operators feel they are off to a good start. "We were surprised at the response as our location is not well-known yet and we have only used short term advertising."

IN FOUR HOURS

With two reconditioned buses, holding 41 and 37 passengers, Victorians Oscar Johansen and partner Rex Welland are operating a downtown-to-downtown service that lands Victoria passengers at the Seattle Century 21 monorail terminal in four hours.

Return fare from the terminal at 2524 Douglas Street is $10.45.

CERTIFICATE SOUGHT

Century Bus Line is operating on a six-month running permit and is seeking a permanent certificate. A hearing at Olympia, Wash. Tuesday will consider Century's application for a permanent licence. In the meantime, tickets may only be sold in Canada.

Algeria Talks

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle Thursday met Premier Georges Pompidou and Christian Fouchet, the French delegate general in Algeria, for what government sources said was a review of the situation in Algeria.

"We didn't expect the berries as early this year," said Herbert Bickford, manager of Saanich Fruit Growers Association. Mainland growers did not look for berries for another two or three weeks.

The Bickfords picked nine cartons yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bickford predicted pickers would be busy in the fields by early next week.

He looked forward to a good season for berries and said total berry acreage on the peninsula had increased 178 acres from last year.

JOHN DIEFENBAKER

John D Promises Parley on Flag

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Thursday night he intends to call a federal-provincial conference to agree on a distinctive Canadian flag and national anthem.

He made the statement—without saying when the conference would be held—in an election speech to a noisy meeting of 1,000 in Centre Desrochers.

He said that Canada's symbols will be chosen in time for the centenary of Confederation in 1967.

CONSTRUCTIVE STEP

"While the responsibility will ultimately rest with Parliament, it would be a most constructive step to have all the provinces meet and arrive at agreement so that by 1967 we will have established all those things that were hoped for in 1867."

Shifting back and forth between French and English, the prime minister said inter-provincial discussion on a flag and a national anthem "would help to develop if not achieve a decision on the symbols."

FLEW TO QUEBEC

The prime minister flew to Quebec from Montreal where he met the Queen Mother on her arrival in Canada.

After the meeting he drove to Levis, Que., across the river, to board a special railway car for a whistle-stop tour into Maritimes today.

Mr. Diefenbaker referred to a Canadian Press report from St.

John's, Nfld., about an ultimatum from Liberal Premier Smallwood barring Finance Minister Fleming from speaking at a Rotary Club meeting. "These are the men who are trying to apply closure to the people of Canada. What are we coming to in this nation? Whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad with power."

He said the action of the Liberal premier is a model of Liberal action across Canada—domination.

Sex Offences Ammunition For B.C. Treatment Drive

The incidence of sex offences against Greater Victoria school children is being probed to provide ammunition for a B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation brief calling for senior governments to set up treatment centres for pervers.

A special committee of the Vancouver-based provincial body is preparing the brief, which calls on the senior governments to set up the centres.

GAVE PERMISSION

The board recently gave the committee permission to circulate a questionnaire among school principals here which will detail the frequency and type of sex offences against school children in this area.

The committee will use this and similar material gathered in other B.C. school districts as material illustrating the need for such treatment centres.

LONG-RANGE AIM

School board secretary John Gough said he understood the brief was a long-range project of the B.C. federation.

"We have agreed to help by circulating the questionnaires to our principals. They will use this statistical data for an authoritative brief to the senior governments," he said. At the same time, he said, the board had been presented with a film by the Jaycee-ettes for circulation among the schools, which demonstrates the danger of talking to strangers.

The film was recently screened at a meeting of board officials, school principals, health officials and senior police officials. Entitled Dangerous Strangers, it shows children how to avoid contact with deviates.

They Want Yacht

Indians Cry Halt To Salvage Race

PORT ANGELES (AP)—A dispute over an abandoned $70,000 cruiser flared up Tuesday between a group of Makah Indians and two Port Angeles men.

A vest pocket "war party" of Makah Indians ordered two salvage men from Port Angeles to keep their hands off the cruiser, which was driven by storm and tide onto the beach about 14 miles south of Neah Bay June 1.

The luxury yacht Phoebe, bound for the Seattle world's fair from Portland, is the centre of the salvage dispute. The 42-foot craft ran into a gale and out of gas, and went on the rocks.

The coast guard removed Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woodruff and their son Russell Jr. Abandoned, the Phoebe floated free and was driven to the beach about eight miles north. Her hull was holed.

Bids were opened by the Insurance Company of North America for a salvage job and awarded to John Sweatt and Ron Little, co-owners of a Port Angeles charter boat and light salvage firm. While they won the bid at $9,000, a Makah Indian group bid $12,000 and lost the contract.

The Indians delivered the two salvors a "restraining order" when they arrived at the Phoebe. Brought by 10 Makah Indians, it was signed by Makah tribal judge V. R. Bunn, deputy Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Ester Elvrum, a tribal member. The order said the cruiser was on Makah Indian reservation land and that the salvors were forbidden to board the Phoebe.

'Killer Strip' Crash Claims Five Soldiers

No Quota Yet On Canadian Timber Sales

PORTLAND (AP)—The Lumbermen's Economic Survival Committee said Thursday the U.S. tariff commission will be unable to put any immediate quota on Canadian lumber imports.

The committee, which earlier this week asked an emergency quota on such imports, said the tariff commission had replied that it could not act within six months.

Spruce Men Dealt Blow By Order

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A lumber industry spokesman said Thursday producers of western white spruce in British Columbia have been dealt a blow by a new regulation from the United States federal housing authority.

Bob Gallagher, secretary manager of the Northern Interior Lumberman's Association, said he has been informed the span table for spruce imports has been reduced.

He said this means bigger lumber sizes will in future be used in U.S. house construction, and the volume of white spruce shipments to the U.S. could be cut by as much as 20 per cent.

U.S. Magazines Seized By Winnipeg Police

WINNIPEG (CP)—Morality officers have seized copies of four United States magazines found on Winnipeg newsstands. A spokesman for the County Court said copies of the magazines Ace, Escapade, Year Book, Caper and Bachelor were picked up.

A summons was sent to the Dominion News Agency for a hearing on whether the magazines seized are obscene.

Not Doing Job

'High Schools Fail'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Registar J. E. Parnall of the University of B.C. said here British Columbia high schools are not doing their job.

They fail both to train students ending their education at the secondary level, and the group going to university, he said in an interview.

He was commenting on a statement Monday by assistant schools superintendent D. B. MacKenzie, who said universities have too much influence on the secondary school curriculum.

Mr. Parnall said university officials look forward to re-organization of the school system as recommended by the province's Chant commission on education.

Child Chased By Molester Near School

An eight-year-old Sir James Douglas School student was chased by an elderly man while on her way home from school at noon yesterday.

Questioned by police the young girl said an elderly man in an old blue and white car had offered her a lift to school that morning but she refused and ran.

The same man was waiting for her at noon and when she once again refused his offer he said, "Then I will catch you," and chased the youngster on foot.

The little girl described the man as "fairly old with grey hair" and wearing a business suit. The car is described as a two-tone blue and white older model.

Police searched the area without results.

City Hearing

Top Trio Probes Staff Unrest

Top-level committee appointed last week to conduct a full-scale survey of the city's public works department held hearings all day yesterday.

City manager C. C. Wyatt, engineering expert Col. W. G. Swan and chartered accountant G. Fitzpatrick Dunn met all day in Mr. Wyatt's office, interviewing members of the department.

Similar interviews are believed scheduled to continue today.

Facing the committee are unrest among public works department staff, the sudden and unexplained resignation of traffic engineer Norman Woraley after 11 years service, and a letter from Vancouver Island architects, opposing removal of planner Roderick Clark as head of the city's planning and inspection division.

FLARED UP

Rumors of unrest have been heard from public works staff for some time but flared up following an overnight reshuffle of engineering staff on May 11.

May 15, Mr. Woraley resigned without giving any reason, his resignation to take effect immediately. Since then he has obtained a post with the provincial highways department.

May 18, the Vancouver Island Chapter of the Architectural Institute of British Columbia wrote to city council, suggesting Mr. Clark should be returned to his original post.

May 24 city council met in closed session and ordered City Manager Wyatt to investigate the situation and report on it.

Few Splutters Over Increase In Coffee Price

Victorians seem to be accepting the 15-cent cup of coffee. A survey of local restaurants showed no major increase in business where coffee is still 10 cents and all but one 15-cent coffee house said business was the same as usual.

Paul's Crown House reported business as usual. The Major's Coffee Shop was the only one to report noticeable effects. "We have lost a lot of business,"

"ACCEPTED"

Things were the same as usual at the Giv'ner's Grill where customers "accepted the increase in price and understand the problem."

The "problem" as stated by the restaurant owners is spiralling operating costs. Coffee prices have been raised to enable restaurateurs to hold the line on current meal prices.

NO EFFECT

The Dominion Restaurant, where brew sells for a dime, noticed "no effect whatsoever."

"We see very few strange coffee drinkers."

Both the Delux and Delta Coffee Shops noticed just steady customers enjoying 10-cent coffee.

PICKING UP

Business was picking up with "lots of good comments" at the Ingraham Hotel. But a spokesman couldn't attribute increased trade to 10-cent coffee.

Three Paul's Restaurants, which raised coffee to 15 cents last week, reported no significant change.

NO COMPLAINTS

Paul's Sussex reported "some difference" but customers still coming in and "no complaints."

"I can't say that we have noticed any drop in business," said a spokesman at Paul's Drive-in. "There are probably a few girls who don't come in any more" but no really significant change.

"We still see the same old faces and we're still selling lots of coffee," he said. "Sales are over those of the same week last year."

Surprise For Family

Tourist family from Cut Bank, Mont., boarded B.C. Toll Authority vessel at Swartz Bay yesterday to find themselves celebrities.

More Bad Meat Is Condemned

Metropolitan health board's stop-gap meat inspection service discovered two more samples of meat unfit for human consumption yesterday.

A pig's liver and heart were condemned by veterinary inspector, Dr. D. W. Gaunt.

The condemnation brought the total of meat samples condemned since the service began Monday to eight—three beef livers, two lamb livers, a pig liver and two pig hearts.

APPROVAL AWAITED

The service will continue until the proposed new abatements are erected and approved by federal officials, about Oct. 1, when the provincial government will declare a meat inspection area.

Three areas within the metropolitan health board's area are not covered by the meat inspection service—Saanch, Central Saanch and Salt Spring Island.

SPECIAL BYLAW

Saanch and Central Saanch have not adopted a special bylaw which requires all meat to be inspected before being offered for sale, and Salt Spring Island is exempted only so far as meat for local consumption is concerned—all Salt Spring Island meat sold in other parts of the health board's area has to be inspected.

City Group Condemns Exchange Dodgers

Practice of some local merchants who have declined to pay official rates of exchange on U.S. money was condemned yesterday at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants' group.

The situation came to a head after a Colonist-sponsored shopping spree in the heart of the city's tourist business section showed that many merchants were not paying the posted exchange rate on U.S. currency.

Former chairman of the merchants' group, Clifford Rutledge, said a quantity of cards were being printed which would advise customers that the store displaying them paid the official rate of exchange.

"We are going to urge all of our members, in the strongest possible terms, to display the signs," he said.

Mr. Rutledge said the practice of not paying the exchange did not appear as widespread as Colonist article had indicated.

He emphasized, however, that the penny-pinching was going on in the city and said everything possible would be done by the Chamber of Commerce to stamp it out.

Mr. Rutledge considered the ill-will which could be created by the short-changers was far more serious than the actual monetary loss to customers.

"It even reflects on local residents who feel that their friends from another country have been cheated—even of a few pennies."

Motel Men Flare Up Over Smoke

By TED SHACKLEFORD

A Victoria motel operator's bitter attack on city council for inaction over smoke and fly ash problems brought a flood of similar complaints to the Colonist yesterday.

Complaints came mainly from other motel operators but they also came from a Swan Lake resident, operator of a hamburger drive-in and a manufacturer of aluminum window frames.

Original complaint came from L. E. Todd, managing director of the Windsor Motor Court, who charged that city council should be sued in court for "dereliction of duty" and added "I think somebody is afraid of the mills or the operators."

Gerry Carter, manager of the Colony Motor Hotel, came to the Colonist office with a photograph of a heavy smoke haze which reduced visibility along Douglas Street yesterday afternoon.

"I have been here for five years and haven't noticed any improvement," he said. "We have been complaining for five years and not getting anywhere."

"In the summer our handyman has had to wash as many as six cars a day to keep guests at the motel."

'That's Real Dilly!'

"He takes an additional hour a day to clean the swimming pool. Each day we get about a bucket of ash from patios around the pool."

"Our draperies have to be cleaned twice as much as normal and it gets in the carpets."

Allan Titterie, owner of the Prince Charles Motel, agreed with Mr. Todd's complaints.

"It is certainly costing us and the homeowners a terrific amount of money," he said.

"Every spring it takes me about two weeks to clean the pool out."

"An overcast day, that is a real dilly! When there is moisture on the ground it holds the fly ash and it gets tracked into the carpets."

"Grease you can get out but this stuff stays."

"Our customers can't understand how a beautiful city like this can allow that to go on. I've had to wash cars several times for guests."

"I have been here nine years and they talk about it getting better. Last summer was the worst it has ever been. I've never seen it so bad."

Indians Here First

"When I painted the pool for this season it took almost a month of Sundays—you can't paint after 4:30 p.m. because the mills open up then."

"This Walker fellow (city smoke inspector Thomas Walker) came around and told us the mills were here first."

"Well, if he wants to go back, the Indians were here before the mills so he should give it back to the Indians."

Warren Fonteyne, manager of the Royal Victoria Motor Hotel: "It is a very distressing situation as far as we are concerned."

"I have attended a couple of smoke (advisory committee) meetings but I have sworn I would never go back to another one—there is just nothing done."

"People bring evidence of this ash problem right into the meeting but nothing is done."

"We have a continual problem of cleaning rugs. We have one girl all summer long just shampooing rugs."

"Once you have that stuff tracked into your rugs you really have a mess."

"We have lost a number of two and three-day tourists because their cars were covered with the fly ash in the morning. This has happened quite frequently."

Dad Fears Funny Tricks May Finally Floor Him

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

BUMPS AND GRINDS: A few weeks ago we recounted the sad fate of a colleague who slipped off the tip of his finger while doing knife tricks for his four-year-old daughter.

Yesterday he showed up with a cut over his eye.

"Tricks for you daughter again?" we asked.

"As a matter of fact, yes," he replied. "Ran out of water doing somersaults at the Crystal Garden."

"Daughter think it was funny?"

"Sure," he said. "It killed her! What I'm worried about is that next time it might kill me!"

EAT, DRINK AND BE MERRY: Whatever happened to the good old days when it was more than enough fun just to go and hear politicians sound off at election meetings?

The Strawberry Vale Community Club is sponsoring an all-candidate forum at the community hall at 8 p.m. today.

They're leaving nothing to chance in their attempts to have a big crowd.

Extra added attraction: free oysterburgers, doughnuts and coffee—after the speeches!

MAN OF DISTINCTION: In a bulletin headed "Some changes have been made," the Victoria branch of the B.C. Automobile Association points out that former secretary-manager George L. Warren "has been retired from the club for over a year now."

Well, it is nice to be so well remembered!

THE THINGS THEY SAY: Something strange happens to Premier Bennett when he leaves town.

Take for instance his reported remark in Winnipeg as he journeyed East the other day. A newsmen showed him a Defendoliar and asked for his comment.

"I never go for gimmicks," said Premier Bennett.

No sir, he just plays everything straight, such as shooting a flaming arrow into a barge full of bonds, letting a Hollywood publicity man take over his office to promote the visit of the replica of HMS Bounty; ad infinitum!

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: The story is circulating that some of the more ingenious inmates of Oakalla have made duplicate copies of genuine B.C. licence plates and have smuggled them to the U.S. to aid colleagues in their nefarious doings! . . . Former Oak Bay Leader publisher Harry Gregson plans to launch a city weekly newspaper in September. Editorial policy: Conservative! . . . Former Liberal immigration and citizenship minister Jack Pickersgill tells me that one way of cutting down the present length of federal elections would be to have the post office keep permanent voters' lists.

INSTANT ITEM: Middle age is when the narrowness of the waist and the broadness of the mind change places!

REDUCED TO CLEAR: One gas station operator on the Island Highway complains that he can't do a thing about the latest one-cent jump in the price of gas. The maximum price he can show on his pumps is 50 cents and he's already up to 49.5 cents for premium gas! . . . Believe it or not, the Bank of Montreal is actually giving away samples when customers open a new savings account. "Bet you never expected a sample," is the slogan as the bank gives out a shiny new penny! . . . One of the biggest conventions of the year will see between 1,500 and 2,000 delegates flock to Victoria June 29, 30 and July 1 for the Pacific North-west convention of Alcoholics Anonymous. Comments on official: "The bartenders will be wild over this one!"

CONSUMER REPORT: A column spy comments that something seems wrong somewhere when Canadian-made razor blades for injector-type razors cost 69 cents for 10 while English-made blades cost only 79 cents for 20.

The Canadian-made blades are said to have a special edge on them while the English blades "merely have regular sharp edges."

RANDOM HARVEST: A backdraft of cooking odors led Dave Hill to investigate the vent leading from the fan above his kitchen stove. There, nestled in the warmth, was a Momma Swallow and her little ones . . . Latest invention is a doll which has removable pimples, measles, chickenpox and mumps. The trick is done with adhesive material which can be used over and over again according to the mood or condition of the owner! . . . Vancouver spies say CHEK-TV is dickering to get the popular Horst Kachler Show away from KVOS, Bellingham.

THE PASSING PUN: Someone noted that Liberal leader Lester Pearson has now added his voice to those Liberals claiming defence critic Paul Hellyer didn't really mean he was in favor of scrapping the RCN.

They put it this way . . . "Look, Doc, can't you do something to stop this Pearson noise in my ears? It's enough to make me go Dief."

The Hellyer say . . . "Yes, you, that's definitely all for today!"

NORMA FITZSIMMONS

Seen In Passing

Norma Fitzsimmons arranging Pink Rapture roses. (Operator of a city flower shop, she lives with husband Russell, daughter Diane and son Tom at 2917 Cadboro Bay Road. Hobbies include flowers and music! . . . Norma Fitzsimmons in a wheelchair . . . George Gregory speechless at a Liberal meeting . . . Joe Ferguson planning a pistol shoot . . . Ray Maitland back from Regina . . . Trev Frowland looking forward to a summer in B.C.'s northland . . . Curtis Mitchell talking about boats . . . Dan Ramsay discussing the advantages of fiberglass boats . . . Bob Deighton fixing a garden hose.

Special Guests Dig In

Buckling down to a meal of pancakes served by Alex Chalmers are Bobby, 8, and Gary, 9, of the Protestant Orphanage, special guests at the SS Beaver Kiwanis Breakfast Club held from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. yesterday at 1318 Broad. Forty orphanage children were invited to the all-day pancake breakfast that served more than 700. Proceeds will be used for club charities. — (Colonist photo.)

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you've printed several letters from women who are pulling the hair out of their heads because their retired husbands are "in the way." The common complaint seems to be that these women can't stand to have the men around the house.

What is a retired man supposed to do—hang himself in the attic on his 65th birthday so he won't interfere with his wife's club activities?

Some men don't have a dozen hobbies. They just want to stay at home and putter around. They may find pleasure in yard work, or reading, or listening to the radio or TV. Is this a crime? And what's so terrible about a husband who enjoys marketing with his wife?

Too many women are pushing their retired husbands into early graves these days because they make them feel like burdens.

After a lifetime of work a man is entitled to stay at home and do nothing if he wants to. A good wife will let him spend his retired years as he chooses.—WIFE.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 9-year-old son, John, has a room of his own which is always so messy I keep the door closed. It is virtually impossible to clean his room because he collects everything under the sun.

Yesterday I got fed up with all the junk. My mother is coming to visit and I want our house to be orderly—ALL of it. So I threw out everything—the stones, rocks, jars of dirt from different states, twigs and favors from parties he attended two years ago.

When John came home he was furious. He ran to the trash cans to see if he could save anything. Fortunately everything had been hauled away. He threatened to run away from home.

Telescope Unveiling

Victoria's new 68-inch telescope will be officially opened here June 21 before delegates to the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, meeting here.

Officials of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here also announced yesterday that the spectrograph used in conjunction with the new telescope will be dedicated to the memory of the late Dr. Andrew McKellar.

Dr. McKellar, a world-renowned astronomer and assistant of the observatory on Little Saanich Mountain at the time of his death in 1960, played a major part in the design of the new telescope.

Dr. W. E. van Steenburgh, director-general of scientific services for the department of mines and technical services, Ottawa, will be present for the opening. A bronze plaque will commemorate Dr. McKellar's work in spectroscopic studies of stars.

40 EXPECTED
Some 40 delegates are expected to attend the three-day meeting of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, Sessions

Teacher Stole Letters

VANCOUVER (CP) — A North Vancouver school teacher and part-time mail truck driver was jailed for six months Thursday for stealing five letters from the mails.

Magistrate Oscar Orr imposed the minimum jail term on Walter Kenneth Bergmann, 40, after the father of four pleaded guilty to the charge.

Prosecutor Wilhelm Seibke said Bergmann worked part-time for an express company emptying letter boxes.

Council Meets On Monday

Saanich council will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the municipal hall. A public works committee will be held the following night at the same time.

Oak Bay's regular meeting, scheduled for Monday June 18, will be held Tuesday because of the federal election.

will be held at Victoria University. Twenty-six papers dealing with technical aspects of astrophysics will be presented during the sessions. There will also be a symposium on high dispersion stellar spectroscopy and a public lecture in the university's Young Building June 21 at 8 p.m.

TALK ON COMETS
Dr. Elizabeth Roemer of the USN Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., will speak on the behavior of comets.

Delegates will take a break from more formal convention business for the official opening of the new 68-inch telescope and then spend a couple of hours inspecting equipment in the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here.

They will have a picnic supper on Little Saanich Mountain before returning to the city.

350 MEMBERS
Observatory director Dr. R. M. Petrie, who is also president of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, will welcome delegates.

The last major astronomical meeting was held here in 1953. The Astronomical Society of the Pacific has about 350 members, both professional and amateur astronomers. It was formed in 1889 and Dr. McKellar is among its former presidents.

Decision Soon

Servants Await Increases

A decision by the federal government on pay increases for some 50,000 civil servants is expected by next week.

The increases, which are believed to be retroactive to last October, will go to about 3,000 civil servants in the Greater Victoria area.

TALKS COMPLETED

G. K. Sammon, president of the Department of Veterans' Affairs National Association, said last night talks were completed but the results would not be known until next week.

He said there was no way of telling how much the wage increases would be as the government was using a new system of arriving at a wage figure for civil servants.

PUT BEFORE BOARD

"The civil service commission and the pay research board have been making comparisons with wages in similar positions outside the civil service," Mr. Sammon said. He said the results of this survey with recommendations was put before the federal treasury board for consideration.

HAS RIGHT

He said under the new system representatives of civil service associations had the right to be present when these figures were presented.

"We are hoping this system will eventually lead to some form of arbitration," Mr. Sammon said.

Sun Draws Them In At Seattle Fair

SEATTLE (AP) — A beaming sun sent attendance at the Seattle world's fair Wednesday to a week-day record of 53,380 and pushed the total since opening day to 1,826,346.

With the forecast for more good weather, fair officials expected the 2,000,000th visitor to pass through the gates sometime Sunday.

Compulsion Threat To Doctors Denied

REGINA (CP) — The provincial government has given "no serious consideration" to the possibility of asking the federal government to invoke civil defence legislation to force Saskatchewan doctors to provide services after the July 1 start of a provincial compulsory medical care plan.

Health Minister W. G. Davies said Thursday.

The minister was commenting on reports that Premier Woodrow Lloyd had met with department heads to set up a

New Trout Record in May For Second Year in Row

For the second year in a row the Colonist King Fisherman contest has noted a new May record for trout entries.

With 686 trout entries so far for May—and stragglers entries still coming in from weigh-in stations—entries are 37 per cent higher than last year's record 500 trout entries for May and nearly double the previous record of 355 trout entries in 1959.

Entries this year have shown a greater trout effort by more people in new fishing waters on Vancouver Island.

There were 595 lake trout entries, compared to 428 in May of 1961, and 91 river trout entries, compared to 72 in May last year.

Small-mouthed bass entries are also up for May of this year—181—compared to 118 for May last year.

But cold and windy weather, coupled with a lack of salmon, has shown up in the spring salmon entries, which are just now starting to come in to the contest in big numbers.

Only 288 spring salmon were weighed in, compared to 326 last year and far short of 1959's record 571 spring salmon entries for May.

Nine coho were weighed-in in May this year and eight last year.

B.C. Cabinet Shrunk By Faraway Places

Three B.C. cabinet "stay-at-homes" were forced to hold their meeting in a Sacred caucus room yesterday as the remainder of their colleagues stumped the country electioneering.

The regular cabinet chamber was closed for spring cleaning.

Health Minister Eric Martin, who with Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and Works Minister W. N. Chant were the only cabinet members in town, conducted their business in the Social Credit MLAs' caucus room.

Premier Bennett and the other members were electioneering as far away as Halifax.

To Buy B.C. Notes

Vancouver Changes Nay to Aye

VANCOUVER (CP) — City council yesterday backed down from its refusal Tuesday to buy provincial government promissory notes.

Resolutions restricting the city's short-term investments to other forms of security were rescinded. Council then passed a motion sponsored by Mayor Tom Alsbury telling the city's top financial officers to invest "to the best advantage of the city."

Opponents had to be content with tacking on a rider saying that none of the promissory notes may be bought without the council's prior approval.

The money involved is $23,700,000 of taxes due within the next few weeks but not needed for city expenses until later this year.

Recommendation Tuesday the city buy 4 1/2 per cent demand notes of the provincial government had been rejected five to three. Yesterday's motion carried six to one.

Debate yesterday featured a bitter exchange between the mayor and Aldermen Tom Campbell and Bill Rathie.

They threatened at one stage to leave the meeting which would have destroyed a quorum.

Skirt Lifter Canadian Invention

VANCOUVER (CP) — A man probing the history of invention and technology has found that Canadians sometimes invent the strangest things. For instance, a skirt lifter.

It seems a Calgary

woman back in the 1890s

got tired of her long skirts trailing in the mud of the streets. So she went to work on an invention.

FLICK OF WRIST

She came up with the skirt lifter, a lever attached to her bustle. With a flick of the wrist, she could promenade unimpeded.

This is one of the inventions Dr. J. J. Brown of Montreal is gathering information about.

FOUR TOURS

Dr. Brown, former professor of English at Cornell University and now head of a Montreal management consulting firm, was here on the first of four 4,000-mile tours to gather material for a book on the history of invention and technology in Canada. The book will be published as a contribution to Canada's centenary by a large corporation.

Another Clue Fades

Another fruitless lead in the search for eight-year-old Peter Woycheshin faded out yesterday.

A boy answering the description of Peter—missing 11 days from 522 Rupert Street—was reported seen on Rupert Street near Beacon Hill Park, Wednesday night.

Eye-witnesses said the boy was dirty and ragged.

NO RESULT
Police searched Beacon Hill Park and surrounding area without result.

"As far as we can make out, there was nothing to it," said Police Chief John Blackstock. "They saw a different boy."

Peter disappeared May 26, a Saturday, and was reported seen by several friends and acquaintances on the Sunday.

NOT CERTAIN
However, police are not certain the witnesses really did see Peter on the Sunday. The possibility of mistaken identification exists.

If he fell in the sea, as some people believe, he could have been swept away by strong tides. Some bodies from ships sunk fairly close to shore have never been recovered.

Five Fires Laid

66 Freedomites Herded Out of Blazing Prison

NELSON (CP)—Five fires, mostly started with cardboard boxes and sunflower seed oil, broke out Thursday night in the provincial jail here where 66 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are held.

There were no injuries and damage was believed to be slight.

As police and firemen were fighting these, another broke out in a woodshed near where the Freedomites were standing.

All fires were quickly doused and the prisoners herded back into their smoke-filled dormitory.

'Son' Wins Eight Years
VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Court of Appeal Thursday reduced to 12 years from 20 a sentence given a Sons of Freedom Doukhobor who screamed hate during his Assize Court trial.

Fred N. Davidoff was sentenced to 20 years for placing an explosive with intent to cause serious damage.

Davidoff appealed on the grounds the sentence was related more to his conduct in court than the offence charged against him.

Book Thrown At Piggott
LONDON (AP)—Britain's Jockey Club stewards ruled Thursday Jockey Lester Piggott made no effort to win a race at Lincoln on May 30 and suspended him until July 28.

The stewards also withdrew the licence of Bob Ward, trainer of Ione, the horse Piggott rode.

Ione finished second to Polly Mangan, also trained by Ward. The stewards said they considered "these two horses had not been allowed to run on their merits."

Liberace Postpones Appearance

The appearance in Victoria of pianist Liberace has been postponed.

"Mr. Showmanship" sprained his wrist recently which has caused him to start his tour later than originally intended.

He will be in Victoria Wednesday, June 27, instead of Friday, June 15, but place and time will be the same—Royal Theatre at 8:30 p.m.

Mental Patient Returned

A mental patient who was charged with indecent assault on a four-year-old girl has been returned to the provincial mental hospital on Wilkinson Road.

He will not face trial.

Magistrate William Ostler read to the court a special order-in-council committing the man to hospital.

The man, an inmate of the mental hospital for five years

All Systems 'Go' For Boomlet —B.C. Experts

The British Columbia economy is in the midst of a boomlet, according to pleased government officials.

Economic trends reported so far this year show a healthy upsurge.

"It may be a little early but certainly at this stage all systems are 'Go,'" said a spokesman.

Among the factors were these:

SHOW GAIN
Quarterly mining figures show a four per cent gain in coal production and a two per cent increase for gold. Lead production was down 21 per cent for the first two months, but other figures show a six-fold increase in production of B.C. crude oil and a 28 per cent increase in natural gas production.

Timber scale figures, which indicate the level of logging activity, were 17 per cent greater to the end of February compared with last year.

SHOW VALUE
Quarterly figures for the fish industry show the value of fish landed on the increase —despite a drop in the volume.

Factory shipments for January increased four per cent.

The number of new housing starts made during the first two months showed a 50 per cent gain but declined in March to give a 10 per cent overall increase for the quarter.

SHOW DROP
Unemployed in April dropped to 42,000 from the 46,000 of the previous month while the number of persons employed rose by 10,000 to 547,000.

These figures show 7.1 per cent of the labor force without jobs compared with 10 per cent a year ago.

SHOW INCREASE
Increases were noted in gasoline sales, retail sales, life insurance sales, the number of tourist permits issued and shipments out of the port of Vancouver.

It is also expected capital investment will at least equal last year's total.

Chance To See Chapel

The chapel at University School, built by the boys and dedicated last month by Archbishop Harold Sexton, will be open to the public during certain hours this weekend.

Headmaster J. J. Timmis said the decision to open the chapel to visitors between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday was prompted by the display of "so much kind interest" in the project by those not directly connected with the school.

Members of the school chapel committee will be on hand to show visitors around and answer questions. The boys raised $25,000 towards cost of the chapel and contributed most of the labor involved in its construction.

Jet Breaks Distance Records

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—A Strategic Air Command B-52H Stratofortress jet completed an 11,400-mile "closed circuit" flight without refueling yesterday to establish two world distance records.

The huge eight-jet bomber spent 22 hours and 38 minutes circling the North American continent before touching down here.

It travelled farther than any other aircraft without refueling for a world distance record over a circuitous route.

Imperial Oil Promises No Gas Hike

Action May Kill Other Increases

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A new phase in the gasoline price controversy was reached yesterday when Imperial Oil Ltd. in an official statement said it would not increase its service station prices.

Earlier this week, two of Imperial's chief rivals, B.A. Oil Company Ltd. and Texaco Canada Ltd., stated that they would raise the price of their service station gasoline by up to one cent a gallon.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT
Royalty Oil Company joined B.A. and Texaco yesterday but no announcement of changes have yet been made by Shell Oil or B.C. Standard.

The feeling in the oil industry is that Imperial's announcement will ruin the chances of the other companies in making their higher prices stick.

PRICES STAY
"It is all a matter of competition," said D. H. MacAllan, B.C. manager of Imperial Oil. "Our pump prices will remain as they were, and it remains to be seen if the others will continue to ask for the higher tariff."

NO SURPRISE
The move by Imperial Oil did not come as a complete surprise, although it was this company which initiated the increase of 10 cents a barrel on the wellhead price of Canadian crude oil when the Canadian government took over the industry.

Blazes Revive Terror

ALGIERS (AP)—Secret Army terrorists turned to destruction by fire in Algeria Thursday. Two blazes raged in Oran and the main building of Algiers University here was burned.

Eleven persons were killed and 13 wounded in Thursday's strife.

SCHOOL ON FIRE

In Oran, a booby-trapped tank truck filled with 4,000 gallons of gasoline exploded and set fire to a high school building used as a police barracks. As the fire flared terrorist mortar shells crashed into the school yard where flames engulfed armored cars and gun positions. Official sources said three gendarmes were critically wounded.

'DEADLOCKED'

The fires and a renewal of slaughter of Muslims in Algiers marked a renewal of Secret Army terrorism announced Wednesday night in a clandestine Secret Army broadcast.

But a dissident underground leader called for an end to devastation. "We have lost the battle," he said.

The terrorism resumed in Algiers after several days of truce.

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle Thursday met Premier Georges Pompidou and Christian Fouchet, the French delegate general in Algeria, for what government sources said was a review of the situation in Algeria.

'Bubble-Gum' Plank Pushed by Pearson

LEAMINGTON, Ont. (CP)—A new "bubble-gum" plank in the Liberal party platform was unveiled Thursday by Lester Pearson in a sun-bathed tour between Sarnia and Windsor.

Mr. Pearson, who made 10 stops in the long day, told school children in this tomato-growing centre that what the Liberal party is trying to do is assure Canadian prosperity "so that everybody can get all the bubble-gum they want."

His jocular reference followed an announcement that free bubble-gum would be handed out at Leamington's Liberal party headquarters after the meeting.

Mr. Pearson said he couldn't remember ever being told as a boy that he'd get free bubble-gum from a political gathering.

Later Thursday night he was to address a meeting in Windsor but the day concluded an intensive tour touching 16 western Ontario ridings as part of the June 18 election campaign.

John D Promises Action on Greed

MONTREAL (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker served notice Thursday on Canadian business that the government will act quickly against "greedy people" taking advantage of the recent dollar devaluation to raise prices.

The prime minister, speaking to a luncheon rally at Magog, Quebec, did not say what action is being considered—except that it will be "as effective as it will be drastic."

Later, asked by reporters to elaborate, the prime minister said: "I have served notice and I have nothing further to say."

The warning—surprise show him my costs," said Guenther Guenel, president of the Associated Retail Bakers of Metro which represents 80 shops.

"I would love to talk in front of some of these politicians to make my position clear."

Enraged Premier Threatens Rotary

By JACK PICKETTS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming called off a luncheon speech on the Canadian dollar Thursday after Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland gave the St. John's Rotary Club a "cancel it or else" ultimatum.

The "or else" was that the provincial government would withdraw sponsorship of a regional Rotary Club convention dinner here next week. The premier added that he would have nothing whatever to do with the club in the future if the speech on the devaluation of the Canadian dollar was made.

While Rotary Club officials hurried out of their luncheon room to confer with the premier, Mr. Fleming—here on a two-day political visit—sat silent at the head table.

Finally, club President Ernest C. MacDonald announced that the minister had "kindly consented" to accept the club's withdrawal of its invitation.

Mr. Smallwood regarded Mr. Fleming's proposed speech as interference in the election campaign, Mr. MacDonald said, and would penalize the Rotary Club to the extent of withdrawing a dinner invitation and "hindering future activities" of the club.

PREMIER SMALLWOOD ... or else!

Fleming:

'Hottest Issue'

At a later press conference, Mr. Fleming said he had offered to stand up and make the withdrawal himself but another message from Mr. Smallwood, who was eating in another room of the Newfoundland Hotel, indicated that if he even got to his feet the government's dinner would be cancelled.

The premier issued a statement saying the Canadian dollar was the hottest political issue in Canada today and the invitation to the finance minister to discuss it made the Rotary Club a partisan body.

He said he wrote the club withdrawing the government's invitation and then met club officials personally at the hotel.

When they expressed concern about his action he told them he considered it to be "intolerable and inexcusable for the Rotary Club to invite a politician to speak to them in the midst of this election on the hottest political topic in Canada today."

Mr. Fleming said he offered to change the subject of his address if that would satisfy the premier. He added that the invitation to speak was received some time ago and the club itself had suggested the subject of pegging of the dollar.

The premier—who himself is scheduled to address the Rotary Club convention June 13—said he told the club that Mr. Fleming's address might be all right if at the same time the club invited representatives of all parties to speak.

He added that "this Tory politician Fleming, being here on a political visit, wanted to use the Rotary Club as a tool for his Tory propaganda."

'Watch For Castro'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said Thursday night the Canadian Bill of Rights does not mean freedom of speech only with "license and permission" of Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood.

He said Thursday's incident enabled him to see "more clearly" the need for the Bill of Rights.

"You are going to have a visit from Mr. Castro up here trying to learn something about the tactics of dictatorship," he said.

topic were "utter falsehoods."

Mr. Fleming said his impression of what went on was that word of the ultimatum reached club officials about three minutes after the luncheon started when Mr. MacDonald was called out of the room to see Mr. Smallwood. He returned six or seven minutes later.

This finance minister said he had been told Mr. Smallwood was in another room of the hotel "shaking with rage."

During the last few weeks he has spoken to at least two other service clubs on non-political subjects.

There were no other speeches at Thursday's meeting and club members dispersed after eating dinner. No member commented during the dinner, and all members asked after the meeting declined to comment.

Mr. Fleming told reporters after the dinner ended: "I managed to eat a bit of dinner in had chosen the dollar as his spite of it all."

Changing physical conditions in the world also are threatening wildlife.

Human population is increasing, forcing the animals out. Industry and science are polluting the air, the soil and the water, unintentionally, maybe, but none the less effectively killing off vast numbers of animals and fish.

Prince Philip Lashes Out

By CARMAN CUMMING
NEW YORK (CP)—Prince Philip warned Thursday night that 250 species of animals and birds are in danger of extermination because of "the sheer callousness of mankind."

In an address to a dinner here launching the World Wildlife Fund in the United States, the prince called for better game and conservation laws "and the means of enforcing them."

He strongly condemned what he called the "status-killers" and the "killers for profit, the poachers, the get-rich-quick-at-any-cost mob."

The sportsman, he said, "is concerned that the source of his sport is not destroyed; the status-killer couldn't care less."

Philip, head of the Wildlife Fund's appeal in Britain since it was organized there last year, was introduced at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner by the organization's international president, Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands.

Philip said the fund was created to try to conserve wildlife of all kinds.

"If it succeeds, our descendants will have the pleasure of seeing wild animals. If it fails they will be forced to live in a world where the only living creature will be man himself—always assuming, of course, that we don't destroy ourselves in the meantime."

Since the time of Christ, he said, some 100 animals and the same number of birds have become extinct.

Closing Hours Nanaimo Topic

NANAIMO—City council will consider three separate stands taken by downtown merchants on the subject of store-closing hours.

More than 50 representatives of the business community, mainly from the centre of the city, heard about 20 submissions made to council.

The three stands taken were:

That of large department and chain stores, who want to stay open six days a week;

That of a number of smaller retail outlets who wish to have compulsory closing Monday;

That of a third group of merchants who wish to retain the present Wednesday closing.

SECRET BALLOT

Paul Harding, speaking for the Monday-closing adherents, discounted the importance of tourism to Nanaimo business. He asked for a secret ballot of merchants only, to be conducted by city hall and with the results to be binding on council.

Strong opposition to any change was expressed by Joseph Sutton, representing 500 old age pensioners.

He accused merchants supporting the switch to Mondays of selfishness and lack of consideration for consumers.

BOOST TOURISM

Also heard was the B.C. Hotelmen's Association, which is being urged by the B.C. government to do all it can to encourage tourist business.

Their spokesman asked that the entire Nanaimo business community show unity in this objective, and for this reason they favored a six-day shopping week.

Postmasters End Parley

VANCOUVER (CP)—Delegates from large and small post offices have been discussing possible changes in the postal system at the annual meeting of the B.C. and Yukon branch of the Canadian Postmasters' Association.

The convention ended Wednesday.

Les Hammer of Port Alberni, who has just completed two years as national president, was re-elected regional president for the eighth year. Other officers included Fred Brownsey of Sooke, secretary, and Mike Gord of Nanaimo and Mrs. Gertrude Cottle of Northfield, near Nanaimo, representatives.

Short Notice

CAMPBELL RIVER—A recent spot-check on the highway by RCMP bagged 75 vehicles—mostly trucks—for mechanical defects or use of purple gas.

While most drivers were given some time to make good the defects, one driver was given only 30 minutes. His truck had no licence plates at all.

Alberni Plans Graduation

PORT ALBERNI—One hundred and forty Grade 12 students will take part in Alberni District secondary school graduation exercises to be held here on Friday.

County Court Judge L. A. Hanna will give the convocation address and George Balzer will be the class valedictorian.

A banquet for class members will precede the ceremonies.

Bare Facts Fail To Bring Conviction

DUNCAN—Once principals in a proposed wedding in the nude, a man and woman appeared in court here yesterday as legal opponents.

A charge of breach of probation, laid against Albert P. Young of Duncan, was dismissed in police court after evidence given by crown witness Mrs. Julia T. Forbes was considered insufficient to prove the violation.

Young, found guilty May 7 in the same court of common assault on Mrs. Forbes, was then given a suspended sentence and bound over in the sum of $500 under probation for one year.

Mrs. Forbes told the court Young had continued to telephone her and had embarrassed her when they met in the Duncan employment office.

She said she had told him to leave her alone.

NO WEDDING PLAN

Mrs. Forbes told court she had met Mr. Young in August, 1961, but denied she had had any intention of marrying him.

Referring to letters written by Mrs. Forbes, Young's counsel pointed out Mrs. Forbes and his client had a very close association at one time.

The counsel produced the photo copy of a newspaper report stating his client and Mrs. Forbes planned to get married in the nude if they could find a minister. Mrs. Forbes said:

"This wedding in the nude has been a dream of his for he wanted the publicity, but I didn't want to have anything to do with him any more."

She added, "He can't get that out of his mind."

Court learned Mr. Young, after being sentenced May 7, had been allowed to clear up whatever business he had to Magistrate K. D. McAdam, dismissing the charge against Mr. Young, asked defence counsel to urge his client to be more careful in obeying his responsibility regarding the bond.

DUNCAN—A. G. Stewart, 19, of Duncan, pleaded guilty to possession of beer and was fined $15 in police court.

For letting his minor son who has no driver's licence drive his car, Willy George of Duncan pleading guilty was fined $15. The son, Francis, 19, was fined $10 for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's licence.

Speeding on the Trans-Canada Highway near Mill Bay cost Victoria man William Wilson $30. He was clocked at 85 miles an hour in a 60 zone.

PORT ALBERNI—Mt. Kiltas Garden Club's fourth annual spring show will be held in First United Church hall, Argyle Street, on Friday, June 15, from 2.30 to 9 p.m.

Members gathered at the home of Mrs. G. C. Jamieson, Southgate Street, Tuesday night to make final plans for the event which will be convened by Mrs. H. E. Nix.

For Islands

Ferry Tenders July 1

Tenders for the construction of a new 40-car, 400-passenger ferry for the Gulf Islands run will be called by the B.C. Toll Authority July 1, it has been announced.

It is planned to have the ferry in service by next summer on the run between the mainland and the islands.

Shipbuilders may receive copies of the plans from the ferry authority office on Wharf Street.

The mainland-Gulf Islands service was cancelled at the beginning of the year when Coast Ferries Ltd. pulled out of the run to Galiano, Mayne, Pender and Saturna.

It is expected the new ship will cost more than $1,000,000 but the provincial government will be eligible for the 40 per cent federal shipbuilding subsidy.

Halkett Heads Teacher Group

NANAIMO—Gavin Halkett, principal of Quennell Elementary School, was elected president of Nanaimo District Teachers' Association by acclamation at the recent annual meeting.

Retiring president Garth Godwin of Woodlands Junior High turned the gavel over to Mr. Halkett and received a vote of thanks for his year of guidance.

Mr. Halkett is well-known in Nanaimo, having first taught in the district in 1940 prior to his service with the RCNR. Upon his return he taught at John Shaw Junior High, then moved to the new John Barsby Junior High, until his appointment in 1960 to be principal of Quennell.

He continues his interest in naval activities as one of the officers of the Nanaimo Sea Cadet Corps, RCSCC "Amphion." He has also served previously on the NDTA executive in several capacities.

Vice-president of the 250 teachers of the district is S. Wright of Nanaimo Senior High; recording secretary is Mrs. A. J. R. Devlin, corresponding secretary is Mrs. J. Brandle and treasurer is H. G. Green, all of John Barsby Junior High.

Agreements committee chairman is J. D. Jordan, social committee convener is Miss I. Diedericksen, both of Woodlands Junior High. Public relations officer is Robert Smith of Quennell; elementary representative is F. Luvisotto of Quennell and secondary representative is F. Palmer, Woodlands.

Mr. Devlin has been returned for his third term of office as credit union representative.

Mr. Godwin acknowledged in his annual report a busy year which saw Nanaimo host the South Vancouver Island District Teachers' convention of 800 delegates in February and a very active Education Week.

He extended thanks to his hard-working executive, especially Miss J. Bunker, Mrs. Devlin, Messrs. H. Johnson, H. Fearson, H. G. Green and P. W. O'Shaughnessy.

Power Boats Head for Hub

Power boats from ports throughout Vancouver Island will converge on Nanaimo Saturday for the third annual two-day conference of the Canadian Power Squadrons, Vancouver Island district.

More than 200 power boat operators and their wives are expected to attend, with about 30 of these coming from the Victoria Power Squadron.

Marine historian, master mariner and world traveller Capt. H. L. Cadieux will be guest speaker at the installation dinner Saturday.

A business meeting, election of district officers and discussion of training aids, lighted ships and colored buoys will take place. Boat safety will be the main theme.

Plans call for some Nanaimo boats to meet incoming delegates, including a half-dozen Victoria craft, at Dodd Narrows at 2 p.m. Saturday to arrange a flotilla into Nanaimo Harbor. Other Victorians will travel north by car.

BLUE RIVER, B.C. (CP)—

The story emerged here of a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to breathe life back into two children overcome by smoke in their home.

Art Blundell, a member of the volunteer fire brigade in this village 140 miles north of Kamloops, told of a call Tuesday to the home of Mrs. Lloyd Stark and her children Allen, three, and Janet, two.

The kitchen and porch of the home were on fire. The children lay unconscious in the living room.

Blundell and a nurse, Donna Clazie, were spelled off by other firemen as they tried for two hours to revive the children with mouth-to-mouth respiration. They were too late and the children died on the grass behind their home.

Mrs. Stark, who had left the house briefly before the fire broke out, returned during the efforts to save her children. Mrs. Stark was separated from her husband and had planned to move out of Blue River with her children Tuesday night.

CHERMAINUS—Pleading guilty in police court to a second charge of impaired driving, Ralph McDonald of Duncan was sentenced to 14 days at Oakalla prison farm.

IWA Agent Won't Quit Defies Boss

DUNCAN—The business agent of IWA local 1-80 here says he was improperly fired by local president Weldon Jubenville and will relinquish neither his job nor his duties.

School Vote Saturday For Duncan

DUNCAN—Taxpayers in the Cowichan school district are asked to vote Saturday on two school building referendums totalling $885,000, needed to accommodate the expected school population influx in the next three years.

While the larger referendum will be shared between the district and the department of education, the smaller one consisting of $18,000 will be borne by the district alone.

GOOD TRAINING

The latter sum will be used to improve school equipment which, according to school board officials, will give an "excellent training" to the students. Both civic governments, City of Duncan and North Cowichan are giving their full support to the referendums.

POLLING STATIONS

Polling stations, open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m., are established at the city hall and the following schools: Maple Bay, Crofton, Westholme, Old Semenos, Bayview, Benich, Cobble Hill, Cowichan Station, Glenora, Old Kukuliah, Mill Bay, Sahlam and Shawinigan Lake Elementary School.

Bennett To Talk

Premier Bennett will address an election rally in the 1,000-seat Royal Theatre Tuesday, June 12.

Special invitations have been sent out guaranteeing reserved seats up until 1:30 p.m.—an hour before the speaking starts.

Canada Booming Says Fulton At Duncan Rally

ECONOMY BOOMING

At a luncheon meeting in the local Legion hall he addressed about 70 people. Mr. Fulton said, "Everywhere it is obvious that the economy of Vancouver Island, British Columbia and the whole Dominion is booming and in spite of attempts by the opposition to obscure the facts—it is true."

REVERSED

He said the recession of 1957, inherited from the Liberals, has now been reversed. The minister described the attitude of the opposition as arrogant as it had been when they "were thrown out by the people of Canada in 1957."

He added, "They haven't lost their arrogant tradition."

Business Agent Percy Clements, Mr. Jubenville's opponent in a so-far-undecided election campaign for the local's presidency, was fired last Tuesday.

He said last night:

TO CLARIFY

"In view of the confusion to our membership caused by the statement in The Daily Colonist of Wednesday, June 6, by the president of local 1-80, IWA, Weldon Jubenville, that he had fired myself as business agent of the local, I wish to clarify my position.

"Article 12 of our union constitution is very clear in that it places the authority to hire and fire exclusively in the hands of the local executive board. They, and they alone, have this right and then only after confirmation of their action by the local membership.

WAS AUTHORITY

"Jubenville has the authority to recommend my dismissal to the executive. This he has failed to do, and in my opinion is again in violation of our constitution.

"I refuse to accept the discharge, and await the membership's decision. In the meantime I shall carry out my responsibilities as this local's regional executive board and policy committee member."

ARE VOTING

Local members are voting this week to decide whether Mr. Clements or Mr. Jubenville will be their new president.

Election was held originally in April, when disqualification of 600 ballots resulted in a 25-vote margin victory for Mr. Jubenville.

It was decided to hold the election again when claim was advanced that, had the 600 ballots been allowed, Mr. Clements would have been elected by more than 150 votes.

WILL BE COUNTED

Ballots in this new election will be counted next Monday and Tuesday by a membership-elected ballot committee, and results should be announced next Wednesday.

Mr. Jubenville has also been the central figure in the long-standing dispute between the local and Hillcrest Lumber Co., involving provision of transportation to the mill by bus for employees, living at Duncan and Lake Cowichan.

Lead Dentists

More Staff Promised For Customs

NANAIMO—Additional staff will be allotted to the Nanaimo Customs office for the summer months, it was learned here yesterday.

W. F. "Bus" Matthews, Conservative seeking re-election in this riding, said he had received a telegram from Hon. George Nowlan, minister of national revenue, to this effect.

Mr. Matthews said that in April he knew more help would be needed in the customs office because of increased shipping tonnages to this port and the indications of a much-increased influx of tourists.

He advised Ottawa accordingly.

More Bad Meat Is Condemned

Metropolitan health board's stop-gap meat inspection service discovered two more samples of meat unfit for human consumption yesterday.

A pig's liver and heart were condemned by veterinary inspector, Dr. D. W. Gaunt.

The condemnation brought the total of meat samples condemned since the service began Monday to eight—three beef livers, two lamb livers, a pig liver and two pig hearts.

APPROVAL AWAITED

The service will continue until the proposed new abatements are erected and approved by federal officials, about Oct. 1, when the provincial government will declare a meat inspection area.

Three areas within the metropolitan health board's area are not covered by the meat inspection service—Saanich, Central Saanich and Salt Spring Island.

SPECIAL BYLAW

Saanich and Central Saanich have not adopted a special bylaw which requires all meat to be inspected before being offered for sale, and Salt Spring Island is exempted only so far as meat for local consumption is concerned—all Salt Spring Island meat sold in other parts of the health board's area has to be inspected.

Motel Men Flare Up Over Smoke

By TED SHACKLEFORD

A Victoria motel operator's bitter attack on city council for inaction over smoke and fly ash problems brought a flood of similar complaints to the Colonist yesterday.

Complaints came mainly from other motel operators but they also came from a Swan Lake resident, operator of a hamburger drive-in and a manufacturer of aluminum window frames.

Original complaint came from L. E. Todd, managing director of the Windsor Motor Court, who charged that city council should be sued in court for "dereliction of duty" and added "I think somebody is afraid of the mills or the operators."

Gerry Carter, manager of the Colony Motor Hotel, came to the Colonist office with a photograph of a heavy smoke haze which reduced visibility along Douglas Street yesterday afternoon.

"I have been here for five years and haven't noticed any improvement," he said. "We have been complaining for five years and not getting anywhere."

"In the summer our handyman has had to wash as many as six cars a day to keep guests at the motel."

'That's Real Dilly'

"He takes an additional hour a day to clean the swimming pool. Each day we get about a bucket of ash from patios around the pool."

"Our draperies have to be cleaned twice as much as normal and it gets in the carpets."

Allan Titterle, owner of the Prince Charles Motel, agreed with Mr. Todd's complaints. "It is certainly costing us and the homeowners a terrific amount of money," he said.

"Every spring it takes me about two weeks to clean the pool out."

"An overcast day, that is a real dilly! When there is moisture on the ground it holds the fly ash and it gets tracked into the carpets."

"Grease you can get out but this stuff stays."

"Our customers can't understand how a beautiful city like this can allow that to go on. I've had to wash cars several times for guests."

"I have been here nine years and they talk about it getting better. Last summer was the worst it has ever been. I've never seen it so bad."

Indians Here First

"When I painted the pool for this season it took almost a month of Sundays—you can't paint after 4:30 p.m. because the mills open up then."

"This Walker fellow (city smoke inspector Thomas Walker) came around and told us the mills were here first."

"Well, if he wants to go back, the Indians were here before the mills so he should give it back to the Indians."

Warren Fonteyne, manager of the Royal Victorian Motor Hotel: "It is a very distressing situation as far as we are concerned."

"I have attended a couple of smoke (advisory committee) meetings but I have sworn I would never go back to another one—there is just nothing done."

"People bring evidence of this ash problem right into the meeting but nothing is done."

"We have a continual problem of cleaning rugs. We have one girl all summer long just shampooing rugs."

"Once you have that stuff tracked into your rugs you really have a mess."

"We have lost a number of two and three-day tourists because their cars were covered with the fly ash in the morning. This has happened quite frequently."

City Group Condemns Exchange Dodgers

Practice of some local merchants who have declined to pay official rates of exchange on U.S. money was condemned yesterday at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants' group.

The situation came to a head after a Colonist-sponsored shopping spree in the heart of the city's tourist business section showed that many merchants were not paying the posted exchange rate on U.S. currency.

Former chairman of the merchants' group, Clifford Rutledge, said a quantity of cards were being printed which would advise customers that the store displaying them paid the official rate of exchange.

"We are going to urge all of our members, in the strongest possible terms, to display the signs," he said.

Mr. Rutledge said the practice of not paying the exchange did not appear as widespread as Colonist article had indicated.

He emphasized, however, that the penny-pinching was going on in the city and said everything possible would be done by the Chamber of Commerce to stamp it out.

Mr. Rutledge considered the ill-will which could be created by the short-changers was far more serious than the actual monetary loss to customers.

"It even reflects on local residents who feel that their friends from another country have been cheated—even a few pennies."

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

BUMPS AND GRINDS: A few weeks ago we recounted the sad fate of a colleague who sliced off the tip of his finger while doing knife tricks for his four-year-old daughter.

Yesterday he showed up with a cut over his eye.

"Tricks for you daughter again?" we asked.

"As a matter of fact, yes," he replied. "Ran out of water doing somersaults at the Crystal Garden."

"Daughter think it was funny?"

"Sure," he said. "It killed her! What I'm worried about is that next time it might kill me!"

EAT, DRINK AND BE MERRY: Whatever happened to the good old days when it was more than enough fun just to go and hear politicians sound off at election meetings?

The Strawberry Vale Community Club is sponsoring an all-candidate forum at the community hall at 8 p.m. today.

MAN OF DESTINY

In a bulletin headed "Some changes have been made," the Victoria branch of the B.C. Automobile Association points out that former secretary-manager George L. Warren "has been retired from the club for over a year now."

Well, it is nice to be so well remembered!

THE THINGS THEY SAY: Something strange happens to Premier Bennett when he leaves town.

Take for instance his reported remark in Winnipeg as he journeyed East the other day. A newsmen showed him a Dieffenboller and asked for his comment.

"I never go for gimmicks," said Premier Bennett. "No sir, he just plays everything straight, such as shooting a flaming arrow into a large full of bonds; letting a Hollywood publicity man take over his office to promote the visit of the replica of HMS Bounty; ad infinitum!"

The Canadian-made blades are said to have a special edge on them while the English blades merely have regular sharp edges.

Vancouver spies say CHEK-TV is dickering to get the popular Horst Koshler Show away from KVOZ, Bellingham.

THE FARMING FUN: Someone noted that Liberal leader Lester Pearson has now added his voice to those Liberals claiming defence critic Paul Hellyer didn't really mean he was in favor of scrapping the RCN.

They put it this way ... "Look, Dec, can't you do something to stop this Pearson noise in my ears? It's enough to make me go deaf." "The Hellyer say ... Yes, yes, that's definitely all right, yes!"

Imperial Oil Promises No Gas Hike

Other Increases

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A new phase in the gasoline price controversy was reached yesterday when Imperial Oil Ltd. in an official statement said it would not increase its service station prices.

Earlier this week, two of Imperial's chief rivals, B.A. Oil Company Ltd. and Texaco Canada Ltd., stated that they would raise the price of their service station gasolines by up to one cent a gallon.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT
Royale Oil Company joined B.A. and Texaco yesterday but no announcement of changes have yet been made by Shell Oil or B.C. Standard.

The feeling in the oil industry is that Imperial's announcement will ruin the chances of the other companies in making their higher prices stick.

PRICES STAY
"It is all a matter of competition," said D. H. MacAllan, I.M.C. manager of Imperial Oil. "Our pump prices will remain as they were, and it remains to be seen if the others will continue to ask for the higher tariff."

NO SURPRISE
The move by Imperial Oil did not come as a complete surprise, although it was this company which initiated the increase of 10 cents a barrel on the wellhead price of Canadian crude oil when the Canadian government asked for the higher tariff.

Blazes Revive Terror

ALGIERS (AP)—Secret Army terrorists turned to destruction by fire in Algeria Thursday. Two blazes raged in Oran and the main building of Algiers University here was burned.

Eleven persons were killed and 13 wounded in Thursday's strife.

SCHOOL ON FIRE

In Oran, a booty-trapped tank truck filled with 4,000 gallons of gasoline exploded and set fire to a high school building used as a police barracks. # FLEMING GAGGED

Enraged Premier Threatens Rotary

By JACK PICKETTS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming called off a luncheon speech on the Canadian dollar Thursday after Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland gave the St. John's Rotary Club a "cancel it or else" ultimatum.

The "or else" was that the provincial government would withdraw sponsorship of a regional Rotary Club convention dinner here next week. The premier added that he would have nothing whatever to do with the club in the future if the speech on the devaluation of the Canadian dollar was made.

While Rotary Club officials hurried out of their luncheon room to confer with the premier, Mr. Fleming—here on a two-day political visit—sat silent at the head table.

Finally, club President Ernest C. MacDonald announced that the minister had "kindly consented" to accept the club's withdrawal of its invitation.

Mr. Smallwood regarded Mr. Fleming's proposed speech as interference in the election campaign, Mr. MacDonald said, and would penalize the Rotary Club to the extent of withdrawing a dinner invitation and "hindering future activities" of the club.

PREMIER SMALLWOOD
... or else!

Fleming:

'Hottest Issue'

At a later press conference, Mr. Fleming said he had offered to stand up and make the withdrawal himself but another message from Mr. Smallwood, who was eating in another room of the Newfoundland Hotel, indicated that if he even got to his feet the government's dinner would be cancelled.

The premier issued a statement saying the Canadian dollar was the hottest political issue in Canada today and the invitation to discuss it made the Rotary Club a partisan body.

He said he wrote the club withdrawing the government's invitation and then met club officials personally at the hotel. When they expressed concern about his action he told them he considered it to be "intolerable and inexcusable for the Rotary Club to invite a politician to speak to them in the midst of this election on the hottest political topic in Canada today."

Mr. Fleming said he offered to change the subject of his address if that would satisfy the premier. He added that the invitation to speak was received some time ago and the club itself had suggested the subject of pegging of the dollar.

The premier—who himself is scheduled to address the Rotary Club convention June 13—said he told the club that Mr. Fleming's address might be all right if at the same time the club invited representatives of all parties to speak.

He added that "this Tory politician Fleming, being here on a political visit, wanted to use the Rotary Club as a tool for his Tory propaganda."

'Shook with Rage'

Later in a paid political telecast over CJOH-TV, Mr. Smallwood said Mr. Fleming had told the Canadian Manufacturers Association in Montreal Monday that he was delivering before it his last non-political speech before the federal election.

Mr. Smallwood said Mr. Fleming "or his friends" had asked the Rotary Club to invite the minister to speak at the luncheon. Mr. Fleming had "suggested the topic—the devaluation."

The premier said "pay no attention to Mr. Fleming down here trying to grab a few votes. He's on his way out."

Mr. Fleming later said he received the invitation to speak to the Rotary Club here after his speech in Montreal Monday. He said the assertion that he had asked to be invited to speak to the Rotary Club and that he had chosen the dollar as his topic were "utter falsehoods." Mr. Fleming said his impression of what went on was that word of the ultimatum reached club officials about three minutes after the luncheon started when Mr. MacDonald was called out of the room to see Mr. Smallwood. He returned six or seven minutes later.

The finance minister said he had been told Mr. Smallwood was in another room of the hotel "shaking with rage."

During the last few weeks he has spoken to at least two other service clubs on non-political subjects.

There were no other speeches at Thursday's meeting and club members dispersed after eating dinner. No member commented during the dinner, and all members asked after the meeting declined to comment.

Mr. Fleming told reporters after the dinner ended: "I managed to eat a bit of dinner in spite of it all."

'Watch For Castro'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said Thursday night the Canadian Bill of Rights does not mean freedom of speech only with "license and permission" of Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood.

He said Thursday's incident enabled him to see "more clearly" the need for the Bill of Rights.

"You are going to have a visit from Mr. Castro up here trying to learn something about the tactics of dictatorship," he said.

DONALD FLEMING
... sits silent.

John D Promises Action on Greed

MONTREAL (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker served notice Thursday on Canadian business that the government will act quickly against "greedy people" taking advantage of the recent dollar devaluation to raise prices.

The prime minister, speaking to a luncheon rally at Magog, Que., did not say what action is being considered—except that it will be "as effective as it will be drastic."

Later, asked by reporters to elaborate, the prime minister said: "I have served notice and I have nothing further to say."

declaration during a motor tour of Quebec's Eastern Townships in support of Conservative candidates in the June 18 election—was aimed at those who are "excuse to raise prices."

"I don't want any group—powerful as they may be—to think that they can use an action taken for the benefit of all Canada for their own advantage," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

"If anything of this sort is happening, there will be action taken." He said the cabinet is considering steps the government might take.

ACTION SOON
If his warning did not deter price boosts then the action could be taken "in the next few days."

The prime minister, crippled by his warning with a statement that under the Conservative government the cost of living in Canada had been held down. Between April and May, he added, the cost of living index had dropped two points.

'Bread Price to Go Up Despite Diefenbaker'

TORONTO (CP)—A spokesman for Metropolitan Toronto bakers said Thursday night the price of bread definitely will go up, regardless of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's warning yesterday at Magog, Que.

"I would like to have Mr. Diefenbaker in my shop and show him my costs," said Guennel, president of the Associated Retail Bakers of Metro which represents 80 shops.

"I would love to talk in front of some of these politicians to make my position clear."

'Status Killers' Threaten Wildlife

By CARMAN CUMMING

NEW YORK (CP)—Prince Philip warned Thursday night that 250 species of animals and birds are in danger of extermination because of "the sheer callousness of mankind."

In an address to a dinner here launching the World Wildlife Fund in the United States, the prince called for better game and conservation laws "and the means of enforcing them."

He strongly condemned what he called the "status-killers" and the "killers for profit, the poachers, the get-rich-quick-at-any-cost mob."

The sportsman, he said, "is concerned that the source of his sport is not destroyed; the status-killer couldn't care less."

Philip, head of the Wildlife Fund's appeal in Britain since it was organized there last year, was introduced at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner by the organization's international president, Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands.

Philip said the fund was created to try to conserve wildlife of all kinds.

"If it succeeds, our descendants will have the pleasure of seeing wild animals. If it fails they will be forced to live in a world where the only living creature will be man himself—always assuming, of course, that we don't destroy ourselves in the meantime."

Since the time of Christ, he said, some 100 animals and the same number of birds have become extinct.

Species now under threat of extinction included the North

American golden eagle, which was "being chased and killed by people in light airplanes who seem to think that it is smart to have their feathers and claws."

Changing physical conditions in the world also are threatening wildlife.

Human population is increasing, forcing the animals out. Industry and science are polluting the air, the soil and the water, unintentionally, maybe, but none the less effectively killing off vast numbers of animals and fish.

485,000 PERSONAL TRAGEDIES

Unemployment is No. 1 Obstacle to Canada's National Progress

By JAMES BYRNE

No one expects that the stark hunger and desperate privation of the "dirty thirties" can ever recur in Canada. The "Bennett Buggies" and soup kitchens of that great unemployment crisis in the previous Tory regime were symptoms of a social disease for which partial remedies, such as unemployment insurance have been developed. But no matter how the effects of unemployment are cushioned, it is still a hopeless and tragic thing for any individual to be unable to work, or to find work, and forced to eke out existence on a pittance.

The expense of looking after the unemployed, and the loss of their wages and purchasing power, depresses the whole community and is a drain on the pocketbook of everyone who works.

The first thing on the agenda of the Liberal Government, on its return to service, is to wipe out the present disgracefully high rate of unemployment... bring it quickly back to the low level which has been achieved in the traditional Liberal "Good Times" of 1956, before the Tories took over. Under the current regime in Ottawa the barometer of unemployment has steadily climbed to record highs of as much as 719,000 in a frightening storm signal of another Tory depression. Before everything else, the new Liberal government will devote its energies and carefully planned policies to reversing this trend. It may take a little time, but it is Mr. Pearson's major campaign pledge that it can and will be done.

World Leaders Hope For Pearson Victory

By Elmore Philpott

ELMORE PHILPOTT

Liberal Candidate for Okanagan-Boundary and noted newspaper columnist.

To see ourselves as others see us would be a shock these days to most Canadians. The fund of international friendship which was built so high, and contributed to the climate of international co-operation that was one of our great national assets in Liberal times, has been almost entirely dissipated under the Tory regime.

According to the "Sunday Times" of London we have, for the first time, simultaneously antagonized both our closest friends, Britain and the United States. John Bull is rightly angered at our obstinate and short-sighted obstruction to Britain's entry into the European Common Market. Our points of friction with Uncle Sam are becoming steadily more serious. We self-righteously hounded one of our best and most prosperous customers, South Africa, from the British Commonwealth; we have brusquely cold-shouldered overtures for co-operation with our Latin-American neighbours in the Organization of American States; and we have unofficially but ruthlessly raised trade barriers against B.C.'s good customer, Japan.

With some notable exceptions behind the Red Curtain, we seem to have successfully alienated an impressive number of our former good friends, and all to no purpose.

The stagnation of our domestic economy at home, compared with the soaring prosperity of other free nations, and the drastic devaluation of our dollar in the world market place, gives other countries little reason for confidence in Canada, if we return the Tory government for another five years.

Canada needs the Liberal experience, and the Pearson touch, in world affairs. There is plenty of evidence to show that world leaders will welcome a Liberal victory. The return of L. B. Pearson as Prime Minister will do more than anything else to restore Canada as a responsible leader of the "middle" nations.

In London, when the Canadian election was announced, the Financial Post correspondent did a quick spot check. Amazingly he found that a British Conservative Cabinet Minister and four Conservative Under Secretaries were all pulling for the return of the Liberal government in Canada, and only three back-bench M.P.'s looked for a Tory victory.

LIBERAL LEADER EFFECTIVE FORCE FOR WORLD PEACE

The friendly confidence which exists between Canada's L. B. Pearson and the heads of state of other countries is not simply due to his likeable personality and straight-forward nature.

He had served a thorough apprenticeship in international affairs long before he became the best known Canadian of his time, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, and recipient of honorary degrees from 24 universities. Few, if any, Canadians have been so widely honored.

Much of the respect and affection in which he is held abroad, as well as at home, stems from his tireless and unswerving work for peace among nations. Over and over again his genius for negotiation has helped to settle contentious international issues.

He was chairman of the United Nations Committee which evolved the plan for partitioning Palestine and the establishment of the State of Israel, for which he was awarded the new State's Medallion of Valor. He played a leading role in the resolution of the Suez crisis, and was one of the three men who made up the U.N.'s "Cease Fire" Committee in Korea.

In 1952 he was elected President of the General Assembly of the United Nations, and was twice nominated for the post of Secretary-General. Both times his selection was vetoed by the Soviet Union.

When Mr. Pearson is Prime Minister it is expected that his enormous personal prestige, and vast experience, will again enable Canada to muster the so-called "middle" nations as a genuinely effective force for world peace.

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE—On December 11, 1957, all Canada was honored, when L. B. Pearson received the Nobel Peace Prize from Dr. Gunnar Jahn in Oslo.

MR. CANADA—Dag Hammarskjöld, late Secretary General of the United Nations, confers before the session with his good friend L. B. Pearson.

COMMONWEALTH FRICTION—Prime Minister Macmillan, of the United Kingdom, scarcely conceals his concern on historic visit to Ottawa, when Mr. Diefenbaker cold-shouldered suggestion for closer Commonwealth ties and mutual tariff concessions.

THE CANADIAN ARROW JETS — When production was cancelled 13,500 Canadian workers lost their jobs. (See story in adjoining column).

10,000 SCHOLARSHIPS:

Canada's Need: Better Trained Young People

Canada's most precious asset is its young people. The development of the nation will be geared to Canada's ability to educate its youth to cope with the problems of a complex, technological age.

Yet in the nation's cities, towns and villages there remain intelligent young people who face the future unprepared because their parents have no money to help pay university and technical institute fees. These fine young minds should not be wasted, we need them too greatly. At the same time it is increasingly obvious that the untrained are drifting more and more into the unemployment queues.

These are the reasons which caused the Liberal party to adopt a plan which ensures equality of educational opportunity to young Canadians wherever they live. A new Liberal government will move swiftly to:

- Make available 10,000 four-year scholarships each year. (One thousand will go to B.C. students).
- Provide interest-free loans for students needing money to further their education.
- Set up a Canadian Development Training Organization (CANDO) to help young Canadians develop new skills and assist in re-training older workers.
- Extend Family Allowances in cases where children continue at school beyond age 16 (the present limit).

In co-operation with the provinces a Liberal government will take steps to equalize educational opportunity in all areas, prosperous and otherwise, through financial grants.

National Defence

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS DOWN THE DRAIN

by Hon. Paul T. Hellyer, Former Associate Minister of Defence

Speed is a relative thing. When the Canadian-built Arrow was test-flown for the RCAF in 1958 at 1400 miles per hour, it was the hottest aircraft of its type in the sky. For the Tory government, however, it was too slow — "obsolete by 1962," they said. So, at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars, they scrapped it. More than 13,500 Canadians were thrown out of work. It was later estimated that a total of 50,000 workers and 650 Canadian industries were seriously affected.

We move to 1962 and find that those same Tory defence experts have now equipped the RCAF with the American-made Voodoo, a 1952 aircraft that went out of production in 1961. It performs essentially the same job for which the scrapped Canadian Arrow was successfully designed and produced. American manufacturers and workers get the profits, and Canadian airmen are deprived of a better aircraft specifically designed for their special needs.

But let's get back to the Tory ideas on speed. The government recently ordered the construction of eight destroyer escorts for the Canadian Navy. Their primary purpose, says the government, will be to destroy enemy submarines. Unfortunately they can't travel as fast on the surface as the new Soviet submarines can travel under water. Maybe it's better that they can't catch them, because naval experts agree that they will be obsolete before they are completed and will stand little chance against an enemy of superior speed and more modern design.

This same pattern of confusion, colossal waste and cabinet indecision runs through the Conservative government's nuclear policy—if indeed it can be referred to as "policy." External Affairs Minister Green refuses any suggestion of equipping our forces with nuclear weapons, but Defence Minister Harkness (the one-man U.S. export market) buys American-made Bomarc missiles designed for nuclear warheads and useless without them. More millions wasted, more jobs created by the Tories in Seattle while half a million Canadians are out of work.

If our defence expenditures were of a minor nature—or if they provided us with any measure of real protection—then perhaps the Tory extravagances might be forgiven. But this terrible drain on our national resources, which has failed to provide our fighting men with adequate tools for their job, is contributing to the run on our dollar and piling up a bill that future generations will be hard-put to pay.

VOODOO DEAL HOODOO'D BY DIEFENBAKER DELAY

A $200,000,000 defence blunder by the Tory Prime Minister has been revealed.

In the Spring of 1961 Canadian representatives in Washington had concluded arrangements for an even trade of 24 Canadian cargo aircraft for 64 American Voodoo military jets.

The proposal was a tremendous potential boost for the Canadian aircraft industry and the thousands of workers who would have been employed by Canadair to produce the cargo aircraft. It fell through, because of an incredible piece of Diefenbaker dilly-dallying.

The only thing lacking was the Prime Minister's signature on the agreement, which gathered dust in his office from May, 1961, until September. By that time the American patience was exhausted, and they could wait no longer. They obtained their cargo planes elsewhere, and the deal was off.

One particularly favourable feature of the proposal was that Canada could have traded the Voodoos back for the cargo planes at any time. Since the big aerial freighters have an economic life of 25 years, and fighter planes are obsolete in three or four years, this meant that Canada could have enjoyed the best of both sides of the bargain. When our fighters became useless, we could have exchanged them for the immensely valuable cargo aircraft at no cost whatever.

The saddest part of the story is the price tag attached to this incredible Tory mistake. Canada had to have the Voodoos to replace the superior Canadian-made Arrows previously rejected by the government. When the Tories finally got around to making a new deal with the U.S., they had to agree to take over operation of the "Pine Tree" line of radar defence across Canada at a cost of $20,000,000 every year. Before the story is ended it will cost the taxpayer a conservative $200,000,000.

HON. PAUL HELLYER

SENSIBLE LIBERAL DEFENCE POLICIES

1. Strong support for the indispensable North Atlantic Alliance—co-operating in warning systems and other continental measures, but leaving the retaliatory powers of nuclear weapons to the U.S. which possesses more than adequate nuclear strike potential.
2. Concentrate on strengthening conventional forces to keep local wars from developing into world conflagrations. We must equip our Canadian forces with the best equipment available—modern weapons, rapid air transport and the latest in naval troop carriers and assault craft. A new Liberal government will press for the formation of a permanent United Nations "police force" and Canada will play a lead role, not for war but to maintain world peace.
3. Provide our navy with that kind of equipment that will enable it to play a more effective role in the preservation of peace.
4. Eliminate waste and encourage participation by Canadian industry in the production and development of those weapons needed for our defence.

R.A.F. Wanted to Buy Our Arrow

A further sidelight on the disastrous case of the R.C.A.F. Arrow aircraft has now come to light.

At the time it was developed under the Liberal government it was the most advanced jet interceptor in the world. When the Tory government cancelled the program six aircraft had actually been produced and test flown.

The Royal Air Force, through the British Government, made an offer to Canada of $2,500,000 each for any that we would sell, but the Tory government refused. It obviously could not afford to have these planes that they had condemned, flying successfully in the skies of Europe as the pride of the R.A.F.

Worse than that—in a supreme act of national vandalism they ordered every one of the existing aircraft physically destroyed. They were cut to pieces with acetylene torches!

Tory Finance Minister Donald Fleming has added more than one million dollars a day to Canada's debt. The man who promised Canadians balanced budgets has overspent by more than two billion dollars since he took office. He increased the cost of servicing Canada's debt by 54.6% (interest and other charges). THIS DOES NOT TAKE INTO ACCOUNT the government's $900,000,000 piracy of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, $165,000,000 waste of the special Defence Fund or estimated $500,000,000 loss in Canada's Foreign Exchange Fund! He has increased the debt $174 for every man, woman and child in Canada!

INFLATION TO RESULT

Tory Bungling Brings 14¢ Drop in Dollar

By Jack Nicholson

JACK NICHOLSON, Liberal candidate for Vancouver-Centre, leading businessman, lawyer, economist.

In only five years, Tory mismanagement of Canada's financial resources has knocked the Canadian dollar from a six per cent premium position to an eight cent discount in the U.S.

Liberal leader Lester Pearson has warned that the Tories' Finance Minister Donald Fleming, "is struggling desperately to prevent the dollar from sinking to the lowest level it has ever been." Fleming himself said, in his April budget speech, that a fixed rate of exchange might be premature and impossible to maintain.

Business writer Pat Carney in the Vancouver Province said, on May 4th, that Fleming's "apparent change of heart is not reassuring. The dollar was pegged in the face of reports that a disastrous run on our foreign exchange was in the making."

The causes were a stagnant Canadian economy, widespread unemployment and inability of Tory government to grapple with foreign trade and financial problems (five deficits in a row!)

INDECISION MADE IT WORSE

"If it had had the courage to do so several months ago" the government could have pegged the rate at 95¢ and held it.

—Dr. G. Neil Perry, Dean of the Faculty of Commerce & Business Administration, U.B.C., former official of the International Monetary Fund.

—Vancouver Province, May 4, 1962.

CARS, FOOD COST MORE

Prices for almost all commodities will rise sharply as a result of the dollar's devaluation. Canadian automobiles, all of which contain a number of expensive imported parts, will go up about $50 each. (Imported cars will go up even more!) Even Canadian flour will increase in price. Worst of all will be the rise in the cost of imports —many of them essentials. Increased cost of foreign-made goods will encourage some domestic manufacturers to raise prices. Higher prices will set wage demands in motion and the vicious circle that hits everyone hard—inflation—will be underway.

IN TORY TIMES—THE COST OF LIVING CLIMBS!

All of these show the increase in the Consumer Price Index between 1957 and February 1962 and BEFORE devaluation of the dollar. Devaluation will reflect in immediate increases in all costs. (Source —Dominion Bureau of Statistics.)

Liberal Fundamentals For A Sound Economy

1. Cure Unemployment

Liberals pledge to reduce unemployment to one-third of its present rate. Since the Tories took office Canada's unemployment has consistently been TWICE what economists call sound for a growing country. In mid-summer peak employment periods over 5% unemployment has been seen under the Tories with 10 and 11 per cent unemployed in the winter despite massive federal expenditures on make-work winter projects. Last winter 700,000 Canadians were out of work.

2. Manage the Nation's Finances Well

Confidence must be restored in Canada's growth and in the ability of Government to meet its responsibilities. Liberal financial policies will restore the buying power of the Canadian dollar as quickly as possible; check inflation.

3. Expand Foreign Trade

Positive action on foreign trade matters is long overdue. Liberals will explore every avenue for improving Canada's trade relations—starting with our friends.

WORLD TRADE ... Key to Prosperity for B.C.

By Arthur Laing

One in every five Canadians depends upon exports for his livelihood.

In British Columbia we are even more reliant on trade for prosperity. Sixty-eight per cent of B.C.'s industrial income depends on foreign trade.

Canada exports $600 worth of goods per person, Britain $400 worth and the U.S. $200 worth.

The Liberals believe that Canada's trading policies need immediate and drastic overhauling; that energetic trade practices can be a major help in developing new industries, expanding present ones and generally increasing employment.

Canada is missing the boat on world trade. In a five-year period European Common Market exports rose six times as fast as Canada's exports under Tory mismanagement.

WHY DIDN'T CANADA GET THIS BUSINESS?

During the same period, ECM nations increased their imports by 60 per cent. Yet Canada's sales to the ECM increased by only 8 per cent. Surely the fastest-growing industrial complex, the fastest-rising standard-of-living area in the world could have been persuaded somehow to buy a few more Canadian products—even raw materials—in repayment for Canada's increased purchases from them.

TORY TIMES ARE TOUGH ON TRADE

Devaluation of the Canadian dollar will push the real value of Canada's trade even lower, thus less real money will be received by Canadians for every ton of lead and zinc, pound of fish or foot of lumber sold abroad. The Tories have set Canada's export industries back ten years!

B.C.'s Dependence On Exports

- We export 100% of our aluminum, lead, zinc, copper, iron ore and nickel concentrates.
- We export 93% of our newsprint.
- We export 75% of our natural gas.
- We export 70% of our fish, lumber and shingles.
- We export 50% of our apples.

LAING, Liberal candidate for Vancouver-South, former M.P. and B.C. Liberal leader.

THE CROWNING TOUCH-DEVALUATION

While the Tories are boasting about the impetus that devaluation will give the sales of Canadian products abroad — at cheaper prices, of course — they forget to mention two facts:

1. Any increase in trade resulting from the excessive devaluation of the Canadian dollar will be financed out of the pocket of Canada's working men and women through lessened purchasing power for their pay checks.
2. Excessive devaluation so under-prices some Canadian exports that reprisal tariffs may result. (For example, U.S. Secretary of State Rusk has ordered an investigation into B.C. lumber's domination of the U.S. Atlantic seaboard market at the request of U.S. lumbermen).

TRADE WITH BRITAIN—SHAMEFUL NEGLECT

Trade, both imports and exports, between Canada and Britain declined substantially during the Tory years despite Diefenbaker's promise to switch 15 per cent of Canada's trade from the U.S. to Britain. Worse still, the Tories added insult to injury. Three times the British asked Canada to consider a freer trade arrangement. Three times the Tories off-handedly rejected the offer.

The British offer should have been received in the sincere manner it was made. It should have been used as the basis for a down-to-hard-facts discussion on Canadian-U.K. trade problems and not as an excuse to embarrass Britain in its talks with the Common Market.

Similarly U.S. President's Kennedy's invitation to talk freer trade should have been accepted.

Under a constructive Liberal leadership Canada would invite Britain, the Commonwealth countries, the U.S., European Common Market nations, Japan, and any others who may be interested, to join in progressively reducing the barriers to world trade. (Such changes will bring dislocations to some Canadian industries, but the Liberals are prepared to cope with this. Adjustment grants will be made to industries affected by changing trade patterns, to enable them to firmly re-establish their economic practicality).

$230 a Month Pension Aim of Contributory Plan

by Hon. Paul Martin

HON. PAUL MARTIN
Formerly Minister of Health and Welfare

Establishment of a contributory pension plan will receive top priority from Canada's new Liberal government.

It represents a totally new approach to meeting the requirements of Canada's elder citizens in a changing society. It will not be a handout.

It will be financially self-supporting, geared to the growth in our economy, and will not require any addition to taxes.

The size of the pensions will rise year by year, as people retire after contributing to the new plan. Full pension rates—equal to a third of the retired person's earnings when he or she was working—will be reached in ten years.

It will mean a maximum contributory pension of $165 a month—making a total at age 70 of $230 for a single or widowed person, $295 for a couple, when combined with the basic pension.

$75 A MONTH BASIC

To help those already retired who will have no opportunity to make contributions under the Liberal plan, a minimum supplementary pension fund will be established. It will raise the basic pension to $75 a month for single people ($140 a month for married people) almost immediately. Participants will be able to choose between taking a pension at age 65 or waiting and taking a larger pension at 70. Those who are disabled or unable to work will be able to retire before 65. If a contributor dies, the widow or orphans will receive the benefits.

PORTABLE PENSIONS

Under the Liberal plan, pensions will be fully portable. All working Canadians, both employees and self-employed, will be eligible. Contributions will start at one-half of one per cent of earnings from the employee, and the same amount from the employer. No one will lose pension rights he has built up under existing schemes.

OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE

Old-age assistance payments, available in cases of need, will be increased by the Liberals, in co-operation with the provinces, to $75 a month. This assistance is now available for people between the ages of 65 and 70. But many companies which retire men at 65 retire women at 60. Under the Liberal program old-age assistance will be made available at age 60 to unmarried women and widows.

Health Costs Threat to Family Security

THIS IS THE LIBERAL ANSWER TO HEALTH COSTS

1. Establish a medical care plan for all Canadians — Giving full weight to the invaluable advice of the medical profession and in co-operation with Canada's doctors.
2. Retain freedom of choice for both patient and doctor.
3. No premiums or restrictive conditions for treatment.
4. LEGISLATION TO PREVENT EXPLOITATION IN DRUG COSTS.
5. Improve facilities for health care.
6. Expand the plan to include other burdensome costs, such as drugs, children's dental service, etc., as Canada's economy strengthens.
7. Through scholarships and loans enable more people to become doctors thus increasing the availability of medical care and attention, especially in areas where there are now too few doctors.

A cough that was the start of more than just another cold.

A child crippled for life by polio and accident or illness.

These things happen every day to hundreds of Canadian families and each in a different way is the start of a drain on family financial resources that can cripple a family's security for years. Whole families getting by with less than they should as each member skimps and saves a penny to help foot the bill for sister's, brother's, mother's or father's unforeseen illness.

THESE are the reasons why the Liberal Party has adopted Canada's strongest platform for a comprehensive medical care plan!

Today, more than ever before, the cost of protecting the health of a family can become an unnecessarily tragic burden. A Liberal government will dedicate itself to solving this problem.

In several Canadian provinces and in a number of other nations, partial or complete medical care plans already in existence have been studied and under a Liberal government Canada's plan will be prepared and implemented in such a way as to avoid the errors and pit falls inherent in most of the pioneer plans, including cost to the nation.

LIBERALS BOOST B.C.'s BASIC INDUSTRIES

WEALTH FROM THE SEA—B.C. has a tremendous stake in the fishing industry, and its Liberal M.P.'s will be working to build it bigger and better.

First on the Liberal agenda is extension of the present three-mile limit to 12 miles, including Hecate Strait. This should be done now, without waiting for international agreement.

Other measures in the Liberal fisheries programme look toward bringing Russia under the provisions of the North Pacific Fisheries Treaty which now governs only Japan, Canada and the U.S.A.

In order to improve salmon runs and provide winter work for fishermen, a new Liberal government will immediately begin an aggressive program of stream clearance on all coastal streams, and build more breakwaters and small harbours along the coast. Development of deep sea tuna fishing and unified control over pollution of the sea and rivers, are among other practical things Liberals plan to do immediately to promote a prosperous fishing industry in B.C.

A BETTER DEAL FOR B.C. FARMERS—The three objectives of Liberal farm policies are—a better living for the farmer, preservation of the farm family unit, and providing domestic foodstuffs at lowest possible prices to the B.C. consumer. The program includes (1) Protection of our soft fruit farmers from U.S. dumping;

FOREST INDUSTRIES are keystone of B.C. prosperity. Tory dollar devaluation has brought threat of U.S. tariff reprisals against B.C. lumber exports.

PRACTICAL LIBERAL FARM POLICIES will make it attractive for young people to stay on the farm.

(2) Cheapest feed possible for feedlot operators, partly through more effective use of federal freight assistance;

(3) Practical guidance and assistance in marketing, financing of co-operatives, water conservation, agricultural research and development of new sources of revenue; and (4) More credit for farmers.

Full Speed Ahead on the Columbia

by Jack Davis, Liberal Candidate for Coast-Capilano—Engineer, Economist and director of Research and Planning for the B. C. Hydro Authority

DR. JACK DAVIS

For years the development of power resources in this province has been frustrated by lack of leadership in Ottawa and Victoria. There has been a great deal of talk but little activity on the Columbia. Not only has this stalling deprived British Columbia of an important source of cheap power, but it has cost us jobs during a period of serious unemployment. Political manoeuvring has been substituted for action. Construction must be gotten under way and soon.

Re-examination Necessary

There is considerable evidence to indicate that Canadian interests were not adequately protected by the Ottawa and Victoria negotiators.

General McNaughton has stated bluntly that Canada has been "sold down the river." Whether or not such a statement is justified, Parliament must review the terms of the Columbia treaty and, where necessary, reach a clear cut understanding with the United States.

Features of the Treaty that require a second look are:

- 1—The Treaty ties Canada to a rigid construction schedule. The U.S., on the other hand, is free to build on a schedule which best suits its own requirements. We should have the same privilege.

- 2—Our right to divert either the Columbia or its tributaries within Canada on expiry of the treaty term must be clearly understood. And—

- 3—Before the Treaty is ratified there must be agreement as to the price at which we will sell our share of the downstream benefit power in the United States.

These are reasonable requests and there is every reason to believe that they would be granted by the United States without undue delay.

It is important to remember that we can proceed with the Columbia only if there is an end to inter-governmental wrangling. There must be the closest co-operation between Ottawa and Victoria, between Ottawa and Washington. This kind of co-operation is possible under a Liberal government. If a Liberal government is elected June 18 the Columbia River Project will receive primary attention to ensure a prompt start on construction.

In this situation the Liberal Party stands out as the only party capable of bringing order out of chaos. We know that, within a year of taking office, we can get construction going on the Columbia on the best terms possible for Canada and B.C.
